Island Roads Share In $3,157,000 Plan

Works Minister Announces Federal-Provincial Work in British Columbia

Vancouver Island will share to considerable extent in the $3,157,000 public works program for British Columbia during the coming 12 months and announced this morning by Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works.

Of this amount the Dominion Government will lend the province $650,000 and itself will put up $1,075,000, including $305,000 for completion of the Big Bend Highway.

Amounts to be spent in each riding were not announced this year, as has been the custom in the past.

Work started on the Sooke section of the West Coast Road, started last winter, will be continued. A new bridge will be constructed at Cowichan Station. Road work over the Alberni summit will be completed. Further work will be done on the Malahat Highway. Widening of the highway through Saanich to Sidney will be continued, adding four feet to the road to make it a 20-foot highway. Small jobs will be done on several of the Gulf Islands.

NEW COWICHAN BRIDGE

In the Cowichan-Newcastle electoral district, five or six miles on the Cowichan cut-off road will be completed, and a new bridge built at the end of the north highway. In Comox there will be a heavy program of resurfacing and reconstruction.

In all 90 miles of new highway will be built and 200 miles sealed, to preserve work done some years ago, the minister said.

The province will spend $922,000 on roads during the year. On tourist highways the sum of $680,000 will be spent, shared half and half by the Dominion and provincial governments. The sum of $380,000 will be spent on national parks (Kingsgate-Radium), also shared half and half. $360,000 will be spent on mining trails, B.C. contributing $120,000 and Ottawa $240,000.

NEW WOMEN'S JAIL

In addition the province will spend $100,000 on new government buildings at Creston, Pouce Coupe and Stewart; $350,000 for a new wing at the University of British Columbia; $50,000 on a new women's jail at Oakalla and $10,000 for new work at New Haven, the Borstal system training home at Burnaby for first offenders.

In the sum for new buildings is included a new generating unit at Tranquille Sanitarium.

The Big Bend section of the Trans-Canada Highway will be completed this year and opened next, Mr. MacPherson said.

The Peace Arch Highway, south of Vancouver, will be reconstructed and gravelled and made ready for paving next year. The four-way traffic lane from the bridge will be lengthened several miles, to the junction of the roads east and south. The north approach to the Pattullo Bridge at New Westminster will be improved and beautified.

Work will be done in practically every district of the province, including the distant Queen Charlotte Islands. Contracts will be called for the bigger jobs; the smaller ones will be done by day labor.

KNEES UP!—After a parade through the centre of town yesterday afternoon, the 32 members of the Victoria girls' drill team are shown above posing for the Times Cameraman before departing on the boat to Seattle en route to San Francisco. The colorfully-uniformed group will perform at the Golden Gate Exposition and will give several exhibitions of marching drills during their four-day stay there.

Cariboo Recalls Gold Discovery

Indians Join White Men in 80th Anniversary Celebration

QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—A pack-horse and wagon caravan of more than 100 Indians who arrived at this Cariboo centre had their tents and teepees pitched on the benches above the Quesnel River this afternoon, ready to take part in the Cariboo's celebration of the discovery of gold 80 years ago.

The Indian wagons were somewhat bedraggled after winding down the old Palmer Trail through several days of rain. Some of the Indians were on the way for a week and traveled more than 200 miles.

A bright, warm sun greeted them here and gave them a chance to rest and dry out their equipment before they take their part tomorrow in the three-day celebration.

The natives brought fast Indian ponies on which their best riders will compete with trained jockeys for prizes offered by the celebration committee.

A parade depicting ancient and modern methods of travel in the Cariboo, led by Al Young, veteran stage driver, will be staged Friday. Novelty races will be featured in the afternoon and old-time fiddlers, featuring "Hudson Bay" tunes, will have their fling at a dance in the evening.

A rock drilling contest will be held Saturday when hard rock miners from the Yanks Peak, Wells and Barkerville area will compete for a $100 prize donated by the Provincial Department of Mines and mining companies.

Horse and foot racing will round out the day's events and the evening will be given to boxing and dancing.

All hotels are filled already and the Pacific Great Eastern Railway has sleeping cars in the railway yards to provide accommodation for the overflow crowd.

Pattullo to Broadcast From San Francisco

The welcoming ceremonies will be broadcast over a coast-to-coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting System and over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's system in Canada from 2 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., P.S.T., Saturday.

Start Canvass For Beer Parlors

First Results of Petition Being Circulated To Be Reported Tonight

First returns on petitions being circulated throughout Victoria to support a request to the provincial government for a plebiscite on the sale of beer by the glass in this city would be available this evening, it was stated at headquarters of the campaign committee today.

This morning 15 agents opened a house-to-house canvass for signatures, but their reports were not expected until the close of the day.

Election of officers for the organization, which will be known as the Victoria Moderation League, was postponed today pending arrival from Vancouver of interests supporting the drive.

The meeting to name officials will probably be held tomorrow or early next week in headquarters at Rooms 218 and 219, Central Building.

The preamble to the petition which is now in circulation states:

"We, the undersigned registered voters of the 100 polling divisions number 1 to 100, comprising a portion of the present Victoria City Electoral District, humbly petition the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, under the Liquor Control Act, Chapter 161, Revised Statutes of British Columbia, 1936, that a plebiscite be taken of the vote of electors in the said 100 polling divisions of the Victoria City Electoral District, as provided for under subsection (2) of section 3 of the said act."

In effect it requests a vote for the sale of beer by the glass here.

Misused $1,209,000 University Funds

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—As official estimates of the sum involved in market manoeuvring of Dr. James Monroe Smith, fugitive former president of Louisiana State University, rose to more than $1,000,000, the United States Department of Justice was urged today to start an investigation of the muddled situation.

State officials accused Smith of having had undisturbed access to $1,209,000 in university funds for market plunging and that he redeemed half of them with $500,000 in cash obtained by issuing invalid notes.

Germans Make Deal To Supply China

Picket Japan-bound Ships Despite Order

British and Danish Freighters Unable to Load Scrap Iron at Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Despite a United States district court order restraining picketing of two ships loading scrap iron for Japan, pickets increased in number today around the British freighter Bonington Court and the Danish steamer Nordbo at Pier 41.

Deputy United States marshals served the restrainers on pickets yesterday afternoon, but the men put them in their pockets and continued to bar the way to the pier.

District Judge E. E. Cushman issued the order at Tacoma yesterday under statutes forbidding interference with foreign commerce.

U.S. AGAIN CUTS PRICE FOR SILVER

38 Cents for Imported Metal; Canada May Send None in July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Treasury cut its price for foreign silver to 38 cents an ounce today shortly after Secretary Morgenthau had said the price would be adjusted to that on the London market.

A short time later Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau told a press conference the United States Treasury had informed Canada it did not know whether it could buy any Canadian silver next month, despite a standing silver purchasing agreement between the two countries.

He said the Dominion had been notified of the Senate's action in placing a ban on silver imports in the monetary bill now before Congress.

He said Canada was the only country with which the treasury had a standing agreement for the purchase of silver. Today's half-cent reduction, the third cut in as many days, brought the price for foreign silver exactly 5 cents below the level it had held every day from March, 1938, until Tuesday noon.

The London price had dipped today to 37.79 from yesterday's 38.32 cents an ounce.

The treasury's prices had been cut twice in two days. Tuesday it was trimmed from 43 to 40 cents and yesterday was reduced again to 38½ cents.

WANT NO DUMPING

Morgenthau said it was necessary to keep the Washington prices adjusted to London's in order to prevent dumping of the metal here by foreign sellers anticipating a complete cessation of the United States buying program.

Whether the program would be continued uninterrupted beyond tomorrow midnight depended on whether and in what form Congress would finish before that time a bill extending President Roosevelt's emergency monetary powers, including those to buy foreign silver and domestic silver above world prices.

Seattle Vice Charges Made

Minister Says Governor Will Hear of Widespread Gambling

SEATTLE (AP)—Rev. J. Warren Hastings, pastor of the University Christian Church and leader of a secret law enforcement committee here, said today evidence of "startling gambling and vice conditions in Seattle—a whole safe full"—would be placed before Governor Clarence D. Martin within a few days.

Dr. Hastings' announcement was an aftermath of Prosecutor B. Gray Warner's order this week for a "closed town" and enforcement of the 1909 blue laws. In a sermon last Sunday, Dr. Hastings announced formation of the committee.

The prosecutor's ultimatum sent punch boards and dice games into the discard today. He said, however, he did not believe he could close the theatres on Sundays.

After earlier announcing his plan to shut up the showhouses also in his drive, he went into conferences and said a study of court decisions led him to believe the 1909 blue law did not ban their operations. Under the 38-year-old prosecutor's plans, however, Sunday baseball and horse racing at Longacres will be stopped.

Police Chief William H. Sears said he had told his men to arrest all persons operating dice games or having punch boards available to customers.

"I still insist, however," he said, "I will do nothing in regard to such amusements as are licensed by the city, including theatres, ball games and pinball games."

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—John D. Rice, 72-year-old prospector, is in a hospital here with severe cuts about the head and possible internal injuries suffered Tuesday when he fell 15 feet from a rock ledge on Ruby Creek, 20 miles northeast of Chilliwack.

Rice was injured three miles up the stream from the Ruby Creek Lumber Company's place, and managed to make his way to the camp where he was given first aid treatment.

He was brought to the hospital here in a British Columbia Police ambulance.

Broader Pact Offer to Russia

British Would Include Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Baltic States in Anti-aggression

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — Three western European states—Belgium, Holland and Switzerland—will receive guarantees under the proposed Anglo-French-Russian mutual assistance pact if the Soviet accepts the latest British formula submitted in Moscow.

Informed sources reported Great Britain and France were prepared to accord territorial guarantees with Russian co-operation also to Finland, Estonia and Latvia.

These guarantees would mean in effect, that Britain, France and the Soviet Union would go to war automatically—without prior consultation—if any of the enumerated countries were the victim of direct or indirect aggression and resisted with its own forces.

If Russia accepts this plan it means guaranteeing the three Baltic countries—Finland, Estonia and Latvia—which do not want pledges and insist on their right to remain neutral.

Russia all along has remained adamant in the view that its Baltic frontier must be protected and Britain and France have nine times made attempts to draft a formula which would accomplish what Russia wants without naming the three states.

Each formula met with a polite "no" from the Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, Vyacheslav Molotov.

The latest formula would bind the three major powers to come to each other's assistance in the same way that they would co-operate in meeting aggression against one of the smaller states.

Official circles were extremely hopeful here today that the Soviet Union would accept the present plan and end 10 weeks of negotiation among the three powers.

NO LIMITS ON NAVY, SAY GERMANS

Nazi Press Scornfully Replies to British Note to Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Nazi-controlled German press today commented scornfully on Britain's answer to Chancellor Hitler's denunciation of the 1935 Anglo-German naval limitation agreement and indicated the Nazi leader intended to follow his "road of destiny" without any chains on his growing navy.

The press and the authoritative news service, Duetscher Dienst pointed to the British reply as an "arrogant note" and made it clear there would be little to negotiate between the two countries in naval matters as long as what Nazis call Britain's "encirclement policy" continues.

It was pointed out, however, that the German government would answer "at the proper time" the "objective" part of the British note which, announced in Berlin yesterday, told Germany that Britain is willing to negotiate a new naval limitation arrangement, flatly denied the "encirclement" charge and asked what assurances the Reich could give that any new naval pact would not be scrapped.

Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter expressed suspicion the British memorandum was held up for two months so it could be presented on the 20th anniversary of the Versailles treaty.

Duetscher Dienst, a service of the official news agency, called the British note a "typical example of British humbug."

U.S. RELIEF BILL SOON TO BE PASSED

House Speeds Measure Boosted by Senate To $1,808,300,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives quickly voted another $75,000,000 for continuing its Works Progress Administration investigation today and simultaneously sped the United States $1,808,300,000 relief bill toward final enactment.

The Senate, after more than 14 hours of continuous debate, had passed the relief bill at an early hour today by a 55-0 vote.

The Senate's sitting was the longest of the session.

During its discussion the Senate added appropriations of $73,300,000 to the $1,735,000,000 measure already provided.

The Senate also reduced the severity of numerous restrictions on the administration of the Works Progress Administration which had been voted by the House of Representatives in an effort to prescribe rules and regulations for the administration of relief.

Soviet Editor Scores Britain

Anglo-French Said To Desire Bargain With Aggressors

MOSCOW (AP)—Great Britain and France were accused by Propaganda Chief Andre Zhdanoff in a signed editorial today of using negotiations with Soviet Russia for a mutual aid pact as a ruse "to help them strike a bargain with the aggressors."

The Communist Party news paper Pravda, without waiting for new British-French proposals to be delivered to Premier Vyacheslav Molotov, displayed the editorial on its front page.

Zhdanoff did not assert specifically negotiations have ended, but observed that they "have entered a blind alley."

His editorial occupied two columns under the headline, "English and French governments do not want agreements with the U.S.S.R. on a basis of equality."

The significance of Zhdanoff's views, called his "personal opinion," was stressed by the front-page display given the article by Pravda and by the fact that he is not only the Communist press chief but also chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Supreme Soviet (Russian parliament) and a member of the supreme council for naval affairs.

"Everything indicates," Zhdanoff concluded, "that the British and French do not want such an agreement with the U.S.S.R. based on the principle of equality and reciprocity although they daily swear that they also are for 'equality'."

"What they still want," Zhdanoff concluded, "is an agreement under which the U.S.S.R. would play the role of a hired man carrying on its shoulders the entire load of the engagement. No self-respecting country would accept such an agreement if it does not want to be a plaything in the hands of people who want someone to pull a hot coal out of the fire for them."

Vancouver Bank Robbery Foiled

Hold-up Men Thwarted By Teller Who Looks Cage Door

VANCOUVER (CP)—A quick-thinking teller who locked his cage and dropped the keys in his pocket, today foiled the attempt of two masked and armed bandits to hold up the Nanaimo and Hastings Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The bandits, about 25 years of age, made five bank employees lie on the floor at the rear of the bank. They attempted to gain entry to the locked teller's cage, but fled after rattling the doors.

They escaped in an automobile parked in a lane at the rear of the bank. Police said the car, the number of which was obtained, had been stolen yesterday.

The bandits ordered the five employees—manager G. F. March, D. A. Briscoe, teller; Bill Tyne and George Milne, ledger keepers, and R. J. Bourque, accountant—to the rear of the bank.

Marsh refused to comply and one of the bandits grappled with him. While the scuffle was taking place, Briscoe, who was outside his teller's cage, slammed the door shut and dropped the keys in his pocket.

The five employees were forced to lie on the floor at the rear of the bank while the bandits attempted to open the teller's cage and get the money.

Briscoe described the bandits as "rank amateurs."

No shots were fired.

HOPPER THREAT STILL SERIOUS

But Rains Strengthen Prairie Wheat to Meet Insect Attack

OTTAWA (CP)—Prairie crops got a jump ahead of the grasshoppers during the general rains and dull skies of the last two weeks, but the grasshopper situation continues to be serious, H. G. Crawford, chief of the Agriculture Department's field crops insects investigation, said today.

Infestation of grasshoppers this year is spread over the widest area in prairie history, but recent moisture has provided some encouragement, according to Mr. Crawford. Five years ago the prairies saw the worst grasshopper scourge, when the whole area affected was small, but the seriously infested acreage was more extended.

Continued moisture of the last two weeks has speeded crop growth at a critical period, while the temperamental young grasshoppers, inactive in dull or damp weather, remained comparatively out of the picture. When the warm, dry weather does arrive, crops will be more able to survive attack.

Control measures are being pressed now under provincial supervision.

Bran, sawdust and poison mixed at stations are distributed to the farmers.

Polish President Defiant

Watching Germany, He Says Republic Determined to Keep Sea Outlets

WARSAW (AP)—President Ignace Moscicki, in a broadcast speech climaxing Poland's naval week, today declared the nation's war-won seacoast and Pomorze (Polish Corridor) were the "air and sun of our existence as a state."

He proclaimed Poland's determination to keep her outlets to the sea no matter how great her adversary or how heavy the outside pressure.

"In the traditional naval week every year," the President said, "the thoughts and sentiments of all Poland concentrate on the sea coast, of all our frontiers the shortest yet most important sector because three-quarters of our foreign trade passes through it."

"That is why the ports of Gdynia (in Poland, at the head of the Polish Corridor) and Danzig (which Germany wants returned to the Reich) have such exceptionally great significance for our national economy."

"Pomorze and the seacoast are the basic elements of our economic and political independence."

While President Moscicki spoke from Warsaw, 80,000 Poles, many of them from Danzig, massed at Gdynia and took this oath:

"We swear to defend the eternal right of Poland to the Baltic and to protect the maritime future of our country, to increase continually achievements on sea and on shore and to defend and protect our brothers on the other side of the frontiers who are an integral part of our nation. So help us God."

Europeans Eager For U.S. Dollars

600,000 Reservists Called Up in Germany

PARIS (AP)—Diplomatic sources close to the French government said tonight that information reaching Paris indicated 600,000 reservists have been called to the colors in Germany.

The gradual strengthening of German armed forces, these sources said, is connected with the infiltration of Nazi Party and military groups into Danzig, which the French regard as the centre of the present international crisis.

Wider Conscription Suggested in Britain

LONDON (CP)—A group of members of Parliament was said by reliable sources today to be urging Prime Minister Chamberlain to extend the age of army conscripts to include those between 21 and 24 years old.

Under the present conscription law, 220,018 men between 20 and 21 registered June 3 for six months' training—the first compulsory peace-time service in British history.

The two disabled planes fell in Mongolian territory, it was said.

LONDON—Count Raczynski, Polish ambassador, today visited Lord Halifax, Foreign Secretary, to "discuss current negotiations by a Polish financial mission for a British loan to Poland."

Hitler Advised to Listen to Churchill

LONDON (CP)—Fears that a crisis would be precipitated soon in Danzig were expressed in the British press.

Newspapers gave prominence to Winston Churchill's prediction yesterday of a summer of tension and to Anthony Eden's advice that Britain "be tough... talk tough... act tough" to keep peace.

Overnight reports received here from Warsaw said well-trained Germans were being organized into a Danzig "free corps."

As to the pessimistic statement of Mr. Churchill and his caution to Chancellor Hitler to "ponder well before you take the plunge into the terrible unknown," the London Daily Mail, Independent, in an editorial, headed, "Warning—read Mr. Churchill's speeches," said: "He may be saying what the government are thinking but what they are afraid to make public."

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative, said Mr. Churchill made "a very grave estimate of the present international situation" and added: "Those who were wont to call Mr. Churchill an alarmist will hesitate to do so today; his warnings have too often been impressively justified by events."

Hundreds Added To Danzig Police

DANZIG (AP)—Foreign reports of the organization of a so-called "free corps" and an influx of Germans into Danzig were described in rebuttal by official Danzig sources today as an "alarming of the public which is by no means warranted."

Nevertheless, Danzig is prepared for a homecoming to Germany. Just how and when Chancellor Hitler would act remained a mystery.

It was frankly acknowledged here that Danzig's police force was being strengthened by several hundred men, to be trained along military lines.

Foreign reports of the alleged arrival in Danzig of German soldiers in multi and of other movements pointing to impending action were emphatically denied by German and Danzig authorities.

Hitler Unable to Frighten British

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express, Independent, said today:

"We read of German soldiers pouring into the city of Danzig, of machine-gun exercises in the Danzig Free Corps, of the issue of gas masks.

"The object is to frighten us. But that game won't work. And if we cannot avoid a European war, we must endure it."

"The British government should extend the scope of conscription here, and call additional classes of young men. And the unemployed should be called up, too."

The London Daily Herald, Labor, said:

"It is clear that Herr Hitler is planning new mischief in Danzig. The nature of that mischief is not yet certain. It may only be a stormy demonstration to test the nerves of Poland and her allies. Or it may take the form of a military coup of the kind that could hardly fail to precipitate an international crisis of the gravest character."

Halifax Warns Aggressors

No Retreat By Britain, Whose Armed Forces Grow

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Halifax tonight warned the world of Britain's expanding military strength and the determination of its people to resist aggression and defend international law and order even at the cost of war.

The Foreign Secretary emphasized before a distinguished gathering that Britain is not prepared to be held up to ransom. On the contrary, he said, there is national unity on the absolute necessity for resisting aggression and, he added, "I would emphasize that tonight with all the strength at my command so that nobody may misunderstand it."

Lord Halifax spoke at a dinner of the Royal Institute of International Affairs. His address later was broadcast in German by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Never since he became Foreign Secretary has Lord Halifax used such blunt, unmistakable language. He referred to Britain's "unchallengeable navy," her air force which "now has nothing to fear from any other," her small but powerful army which cannot be derided as in the past—all dedicated to the preservation of "our own liberty and that of other peoples."

Behind these armed forces was a united country and abundant evidence the people's will was supporting the driving national effort.

Lord Halifax referred to efforts made abroad to ridicule, to minimize and misrepresent British efforts to preserve peace.

"I can say at once that Britain is not prepared to yield either to calumnies or force."

Lord Halifax repeated that Britain's first resolve is to stop aggression. That was the primary reason, he said, why Britain had given military pledges throughout Europe which caused Germany to shout encirclement.

The Foreign Secretary, turning to Germany's claim for "Lebensraum" or "living space," said that if by this the Reich means it gives her the right to conquer smaller and weaker neighbors, "we reject it and must reject its application." But if Germany meant by "Lebensraum" to expand her trade influence by negotiation and co-operation, Britain was willing to meet her halfway.

Reviewing British colonial policy, Lord Halifax indicated its ultimate objective is to give the colonies self-government. His reference to this point was taken as designed to impress Chancellor Hitler with the fact that Britain is not willing to negotiate over Germany's war-lost colonies until the doctrine of force is abandoned, armaments are reduced and the efforts to stir up envy and malice forsaken.

At the same time Lord Halifax said that whatever were the difficulties arising from the colonial question, "I would not despair of finding ways of settlement once everybody has got the will to settle."

CHANGES URGED BY CO-OPERATIVES

REGINA (CP)—The United Board of the Co-operative Union of Canada, in a report submitted today to the annual congress, pictured present conditions as a "menace to national safety as serious in its consequences as a major war."

The report, noting further improvement in the co-operative movement in Canada, asserted competitive political action is leading the nation to an economic abyss, and added the "times demand that competitive politics should at least be suspended, and that all political parties should co-operate for the common welfare in a time of great national emergency."

The board said co-operative action between governments, political parties and political groups was necessary to reach a common understanding and put into effect a common plan for the solution of economic and social problems.

"Steps should be taken to restrain or prevent excessive incomes—largely unearned—and for the more equitable distribution of the national income," said the report.

In a statistical review of the past year in the co-operative movement, the board noted 47 retail societies operating stores or warehouses reported for 1938, compared with 35 in 1937 and 41 in 1936.

Aggregate 1938 sales of the retail societies totaled $5,480,806. Net increase in retail society sales was $583,365.

Foreign Warships Reported to Have Left Before Japanese Closed In

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Japanese blockaded Foochow and Wenchow, respectively, about 500 and 300 miles south of Shanghai, and foreign warships were believed to have moved outside the harbors to escape the possibility of being bottled up.

A Japanese warning to all foreign vessels to leave the ports because they would be closed by "dangerous objects" (mines) and "other obstacles" went into effect at noon.

PRIZE-GIVING AT FAIRBRIDGE

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Speaker at Closing Exercises

Marking the fourth year since its establishment, the Fairbridge Farm School near Duncan, held its annual closing and prize-giving, Wednesday afternoon. Principal Flows of the Day School expressed satisfaction with the high standards attained by the students for the year. The Fairbridge Festival Choir, under the direction of Miss Peggy Taylor, rendered two test pieces which won them a tie with Saanich for second place in the recent Music Festival.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., who is assuming chairmanship of the British Columbia Committee at the end of the year, was guest speaker. He stressed that success of the school depended on making everyone in the school a good Canadian citizen.

"To be a good Canadian, you must be a good Britisher," Mr. Mayhew said. "The best way to be loyal to your homeland of England is to express your loyalty as a good citizen of this part of the British Empire, and that is the end that we are trying to accomplish for you in Canada."

Guests from Victoria and other island centres applauded the boys and girls as they came forward for their prizes. The A. J. Hendry prize for general proficiency went to Brian Strawbridge, the L. A. Grogin prize for improvement in written and spoken English to Kenneth Davies, the H. W. Laws' prize for improvement in writing to Ena Taylor, the R. W. MANY AT FUNERAL OF J. A. RICHARDSON

Friends From All Parts Of Canada at Winnipeg For Last Rites Today

WINNIPEG (CP)—In the pioneer St. John's Cemetery, where many of Winnipeg's illustrious dead rest, the late James A. Richardson was buried today as members of the family, friends and business associates surrounded the flower-banked grave.

Services at the graveside and at Augustine Church were of simple character—there was no choir and no singing of hymns, only the soft music of the organ ending with the playing of Beethoven's funeral march.

In the church were friends and associates of the late financier and philanthropist from many parts of eastern and western Canada who had hastened here following word of Mr. Richardson's death Monday. Hundreds of Winnipeggers attended the services conducted by Dr. A. E. Kerr, pastor of Augustine, and Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal of Queen's University, of which Mr. Richardson was chancellor.

During the service a flight of three airplanes from the 12th army co-operative squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force, soared in tribute to Mr. Richardson, who pioneered aerial development in the northland.

At the funeral hour, all flying operations of the Canadian Airways—an aerial service developed by Mr. Richardson—halted, heeding a special "ground order" issued to planes across the Dominion; in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon.

Grain Exchange members had only a short trading session today as colleagues of Mr. Richardson prepared to attend his funeral.

Pioneers in Winnipeg were honorary pallbearers as well as friends from eastern Canada. They included Con Riley, famed Winnipeg oarsman; J. B. Coyne, K.C.; George Allan, K.C.; Isaac Pitblado, K.C.; Col. Harold Aikins, Dr. Wallace, J. M. Macdonnell, Toronto; D. A. Gillies, Arm-pour, Ont., and D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Active pallbearers included: C. H. (Punch) Dickens, famous northern flyer and superintendent of Canadian Airways, and members of the executive of the James Richardson and Son Limited, the internationally-known grain firm that Mr. Richardson headed.

YUKON OLD-TIMER CALLED BY DEATH

'Eldorado' Anderson, 80, Once Took $500,000 From the Klondike

POWELL RIVER (CP)—Charles "Eldorado" Anderson, 80-year-old veteran of the day when men by the score died with their boots on scrambling for gold in the Yukon, died yesterday in the quiet of his Texada Island home near here.

An illness that had dogged him in recent years, caused the death of the man who took $500,000 from one of the first claims staked in the Klondike and went prospecting again at 66 after losing his fortune in the San Francisco earthquake.

Anderson left his native Sweden in 1887 and six years later reached Juneau, Alaska, by way of Tacoma. At Juneau he teamed up with an Arab and a Greek and the cosmopolitan trio set out to try their luck with placer gold on the Yukon River.

They got over the Chilkoot Pass all right and started down the Yukon River toward Forty-Mile on a flimsy raft. But the Arab never got there. Their raft jammed against a pillar of ice and the Arab died far from his sunny birthplace as he tried to flounder ashore through treacherous slush ice.

HIKED WITHOUT FOOD

Anderson and the Greek clung to the raft until daylight, when Anderson managed to reach shore by laying a path of boards in front of him. The Greek followed and they hiked to Forty-Mile on foot, going 36 hours without food. Experiences like that convinced Anderson he had "earned" his riches.

"Twelve years in the Yukon isn't child's play," he recounted once. "Every time I went up-river I wondered if it would be the last. We had to face every sort of hardship and a lot of the men who didn't drown or get lost in the hills were brought down by typhoid or some other disease."

"It was a big gamble and those who took the long chance deserved everything they got."

Anderson and his cronies were skeptical when word of the rich Klondike strike spread through the scattered mining camps of the Yukon in 1896.

"We couldn't believe the story when it first got out," he said. "George Carmack had started it and old-timers said he was a wild dreamer."

But Carmack's story was true enough, as all the world knew two years later. Anderson was one of the first to take part in the rush which was started when Carmack's Indian brother-in-law found gold in a crevice above the water-mark of Bonanza Creek while on a moose hunt.

On Christmas Eve, 1896, Anderson set up camp on the famous Eldorado claim which he bought for $800. In the next nine years it yielded him $500,000, which he invested in downtown real estate in San Francisco when he left the north in 1905.

Anderson couldn't explain the lure of gold-hunting. Once he said: "When a man sees gold in the ground it makes him work."

BIG PLANE MOTOR ORDERS IN U.S.

War Department's Contracts With Three
Firms Total $25,009,389

WASHINGTON (AP)—The expanding United States Army Air Corps contracted yesterday with three manufacturers for aircraft engines costing $25,009,389.

The War Department said today the contracts were believed to represent the largest single order for engines placed since the Great War.

The Allison Engineering Company, Speedway, Ind., was given a $15,080,261 order for an undischarged number of 1,000-horsepower, 12 cylinder, liquid cooled motors, to be used in the newest streamlined planes.

A $8,975,317 order went to the Wright Aeronautical Corporation, Paterson, N.J., for double row, radial, air-cooled engines, to be installed in nearly 200 attack bomber planes ordered last month from the Douglas Aircraft Company, Santa Monica, Calif.

The Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division of the United Aircraft Corporation, East Hartford, Conn., was awarded a $953,810 order for single row, radial, 500-horsepower, air-cooled engines to be installed in basic combat planes from the North American Aviation Corporation, Inglewood, Cal.

The average rubber parts on an automobile can be expected to last approximately 10 years, when properly used.

'NOT A QUITTER,' SAYS MOTHERWELL

ABERNETHY, Sask. (CP)—Because of the soil-drifting problem, western Canada may have to have laws to "keep our dirt" at home," Hon. W. R. Motherwell, veteran parliamentarian-agriculturist, told guests at a banquet marking his 57th anniversary of arrival in the west.

Government control was necessary in some departments of life, said Mr. Motherwell, speaking particularly of agriculture. Greater control was not necessarily a menace to liberty—it was necessary if the individual was to progress.

Mr. Motherwell, for nearly a decade Canada's minister of agriculture, scouted the idea, "once a wheat farmer, always a wheat farmer." If wheat farming did not pay, changes would have to be made.

Identified with the public life of Saskatchewan since 1894, when he first entered politics, Mr. Motherwell announced his retirement from the political field. He is 80 years old.

"When a man drops out at 80, people can't say he is a quitter," said the former cabinet minister.

Mr. Motherwell has represented his home constituency of Melville in the House of Commons since 1925. He was first elected to parliament in 1921, a member for Regina. He was Saskatchewan's first minister of agriculture, an office he held from 1905, on formation of the province, until 1918.

He came to the west from Perth, Ont., in the days of the covered wagons and oxcarts—in 1881.

Caravan Hospital Aids 30,000 Albertans

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta's medical caravan, carrying doctors and nurses to remote communities, has started its summer campaign of visits.

Officially known as the Albert Travelling Clinic, it is a rolling hospital—two trucks for carrying equipment and a large passenger car for the staff of nine members under direction of Dr. J. W. Bridge, chief surgeon.

Its patients are school children under 16 years of age. Minor operations are performed, the operating room being set up in community-halls or isolated farm homes, and treatment is prescribed for many ills. More than 30,000 children have been examined; countless lives saved and clinics held in districts never before visited by a doctor. The staff includes two dentists and the truck drivers are medical students.

The caravan's case record shows 8,852 minor operations performed without a single death.

Immigration Law Divides Family

U.S. Deports Canadian Couple; Canada Refuses
U.S.-Born Children

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Poverty, immigration laws and a desire to remain in the United States divided a family of nine three ways today.

The indigent parents, John McNeil, 39, Canadian war veteran; his wife, Ann, 38, and a son, Jack, six, were aboard a deportation train bound for Halifax.

Two other Canadian-born children, Mildred, 18, and Mrs. Dorothy Lofton, 19, were to have been deported also, but Mrs. Lofton, an expectant mother, fainted as they were being taken to the station and was permitted to remain with her American husband for the time being.

Mildred, her eight-year-old sister, Colleen, said, ran away because she wanted to stay in this country. Edna, 16, who could have stayed anyway, was missing with her. Mildred still faces deportation when she is found.

The Canadian government refused to accept Edna, Colleen, Marjorie, 14, and Shirley, 10, because they were born in the United States and their father was on relief. They will be placed in an institution.

EMOTIONAL SCENE

The parting scene was tragic. Mrs. Lofton crumpled to the floor. Mrs. McNeil first prayed before a statue, "Oh, Sainted Mother, don't let them take my children." Then she screamed to officers, "I'll kill my children rather than see them taken away."

McNeil was hopeful to the last he could keep his family together. Finally he put his arms about his weeping wife.

"We've lost," he said. "Let's get it over with."

One by one he kissed the children to be left behind, then led his wife and son to the automobile which whisked them away to the deportation train. There McNeil was told to ride with the men. His wife and son were taken to a car for women and children.

McNeil's illegal entry, government agents charged, was the reason for deportation.

OTTAWA STATEMENT

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Government cannot admit to Canada United States-born children of indigent Canadian parents without some guarantee the children will not become public charges, since the primary responsibility for their maintenance would not rest on the Dominion but on some municipality, F. C. Blair, Dominion Director of Immigration, said today.

That rule applied, he explained, to the family of John McNeil of Halifax, being deported from Los Angeles. Four of the McNells' seven children were born in the United States and may not enter Canada with the rest of their family unless some person or some municipality is prepared to assume responsibility for them.

"We have no desire to keep the children separate from their parents," Mr. Blair said. "That is the least likeable thing we do. But we often get protests from Canadian municipalities against admitting American-born children of Canadian parents who are public charges."

Eskimos Den Up Aged to Die

WINNIPEG (CP)—When hunting days are over, the problem of the aged is often solved quickly by the Eskimos in far north settlements. Dr. A. L. Fleming, Bishop of the Arctic, told newsmen here. They are walled up in snow huts and left to die.

According to our ideas it is very cruel, but it is easy to understand it when you realize that Eskimos live most of their lives on the verge of starvation," he added.

Dr. Fleming commended the federal government for its work among the dwellers of the far north, but suggested some method should be devised to take care of the aged.

The Eskimos' explanation for their treatment of the old and infirm is: "The game won't wait for the slow hunter."

FLEEING KILLER SLAIN BY POSSE

Ray Olson Trapped
In Wisconsin After
Pursuit Since June 17

CABLE, Wis. (AP)—Ray Olson, fugitive killer of two deputy sheriffs, was shot to death today while attempting to flee from four possemen.

The shooting was done on Lake Namakagon, 14 miles from Cable. Struck by four bullets, the killer, who had been hunted since June 17, toppled into the water near a boat he tried to launch to continue his flight across the lake.

Olson lived about 10 minutes. Before death, he admitted the shooting of the deputies, Carl Johnson and Fred Scott of Hayward, and told the officers his wife was in no way connected with his lawbreaking.

Olson, who had led 200 pursuers a spectacular chase through the wild brush country of Sawyer and Bayfield counties for two weeks, finally was trapped because of his dire need of food and rest.

Weary and hungry, the 30-year-old fugitive broke into the home of Wheatley Anderson some time Wednesday afternoon. He cooked a meal, changed his clothing and apparently lay down to rest.

The Anderson family discovered something was amiss on returning home last night. Anderson notified the authorities, who surrounded the place.

Shortly after dawn today, Sheriff Moore and his men closed in on the farm. Olson, hiding in an outhouse, broke for the woods. The possemen fired and gave chase.

They pursued their quarry through a clump of bushes and on to the lake shore, where Olson tried to launch the boat to row across the lake.

A bullet from a .22 calibre rifle was the first to strike Olson. It

UNITY OF CANADA

NOVA SCOTIA

The Hospitable

★ The greatness of Canada and the scope of her influence depend on the co-operation and unity of all the Provinces. Alone, they are separate Provinces; united, they are a proud Dominion.

Here was established the first representative government in Canada, 1758. Halifax has one of the world's finest and safest harbours, and for long was a stronghold of Britain's ships and soldiers. Here were the first post office and the first printing plant in British North America. A centre of old and new world culture; sending many wise men westward to influence Canadian thinking. Today, one of Canada's gateways to the Empire and world. Nova Scotia's notable race of deep-sea fishermen, doughty, hardy, add to National as well as Provincial wealth. With her fisheries consider also her apple orchards, set in heavenly valleys, her intrepid Cape Breton miners, bringing out from under the waves of the Atlantic great treasure; her forestry, her agriculture: for with these activities she produces more than $160,000,000 a year, and exports over a million and a quarter tons of these products for the enrichment of herself and her sister provinces.

Long a favourite summer resort, she values and yearly enhances her reputation for gracious hospitality to those who come to visit the Land of Evangeline and of Romance. She has nearly 15,000 miles of roads used by tourists and her own 50,000 cars.

A part of the Eastern frontier, she gains security by her affiliation with her sister provinces, united under the protection of the Dominion. Ask us for Facts and Figures concerning the Automotive Industries and the work they are doing in Canada, and we will send them.

BUILDING CANADIAN MOTOR CARS
is a National Enterprise

Probably no other single agent has changed the lives of so many people, pushed back so many horizons or brought common understanding to so many sectional problems as has the Automotive Industry. It has created new opportunities, new employment in every Province. Through its pay-rolls of the Parts, Steel, Paint, Textile, Glass, Rubber and other industries dependent on it, it has created stable and profitable markets for the products of the farm, the mine, the fishery and the forest. The money it puts in circulation reaches every corner of Canada; a truly inter-Provincial enterprise, National in purpose and National in scope. When you buy a Canadian-built car you help your own Province as well as Canada as a whole.

What Is Hitler's Plan?

IF FUHRER HITLER WERE A REASONABLE man, a man who would face the realities of these times with a practical and sensible mind, there would be a good deal less for the world to worry about than it has been worrying about during the last 48 hours. But the head of the German Reich is still an unknown and uncertain quantity who seems to take a keen delight in keeping two billions of people on tenterhooks. Today's dispatches from Europe are full of alarms and unpleasant prediction and speculation. Some of them may be considerably overdrawn, sensationalized for purposes not always apparent, but there remain accounts of several recent developments which are far from reassuring. Back of them all is the silence, and what it may connote, of the head of the Nazi state. Not for several weeks has the world had any intimation of what new schemes, if any, he has been devising. Berlin assures us, however, that the Fuehrer intends to follow his "road of destiny."

The "war of nerves"—an apt description of the condition of Europe since Herr Hitler's troops marched into Austria nearly 16 months ago—took on a new phase after Premier Daladier adjourned the French Parliament earlier this week with a warning that the gravest international crisis "in 20 years" faced the nations of the world. This may or may not be true. It is nevertheless a statement obviously based on information which is inaccessible to the general public. And if it were not intended to sound a general alarm, or as an appeal to France's friends to be ready to meet any emergency that might arise, it was at least an indication that Germany's ancient foe and most vulnerable neighbor is figuratively sleeping with its finger on the trigger. It also may be interpreted by the chief of the Nazi oligarchy in Berlin and probably by his axis partner in Rome that any attempt to follow the Hitlerian "road of destiny" through France, or through any of the territory whose integrity France is pledged to protect, will be followed by a war to the finish.

Events in the immediate future, therefore, depend to a very large extent on whether Herr Hitler considers the time ripe for further progress according to the timetable set forth in his "Mein Kampf," or whether he thinks it advisable to mark time. He followed out his program last year without firing a shot. He took control of further territory in March and managed to purloin a large sum of gold without much difficulty. Against these important successes, however, must be placed the readjustment of policy which the principal democracies have energetically pursued since the tragedy of Munich, and more especially since it became obvious even to the dullest minds that totalitarian promises have been made, like the proverbial piecemeal, only to be broken. The seizure of non-Germanic Bohemia and Moravia, of course, produced a reaction in Great Britain and France, nonetheless in those countries now enlisted in the peace bloc, the full effects of which Nazi Germany will feel more acutely than she may at present realize if a major war should emerge from the present mess.

Well may it be asked if Hitler foresees what most people expect to happen to him and his system if he should force the issue, or if he considers his comparatively bloodless successes to date as all the encouragement he requires to get more; or, in other words, does he still think the British and French governments again will submit to his demands as their representatives did at Munich? The answer to such speculations should be plain. If the Reichsfuehrer refuses to be impressed by the preparations for a showdown which both Great Britain and France have made—apart altogether from the "encirclement" program of which he complains bitterly—his general staff of capable military experts surely is not blind to their significance and meaning. Ponder these questions as we will, however, the unpleasant fact remains, and past experience reminds us of it, that in the hands of one man, a megalomaniac beside whom the former Kaiser Wilhelm resembles but a shadowy substance, rests a decision which may shake the world as it has never been shaken before, or lead the way to lasting international sanity.

Speeches and Politics

IN THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS the other day the Speaker dropped a tactful hint to the members to curtail their speeches and confine themselves more specifically to their subjects. To one new member, and by way of introducing a chestnut which has lost none of its potency through the passage of years, he quoted Disraeli's advice: "It is much better that the House should wonder why you do not speak than why you do."

Critics, however, are not always fair to those orators who make up in length what they lack in depth. Their anxiety to attract the reporter's pencil—for the Speaker's eye is only a minor consideration—is not necessarily due to vanity. It is a matter of business. The M.P. will draw his salary whether he maintains a masterly silence or breaks into indiscreet verbosity. But he must show his constituents that he is still in the business; speeches are to public men what advertising is to a manufacturer, or the mysterious disappearance of her jewels is to an actress. It is to be hoped that the members of the British House of Commons will not be too zealous in taking the Speaker's hint for silence or brevity. Legislatures tend more and more to become the exclusive platform of the ministers and leaders. If these secure a monopoly of the talk, Parliament might as well pack up. One might even suggest a not unfair compromise, namely, since the ministers and leaders in effect dictate orders to the rank and file and control policy, that they should allow the back-benchers to do the talking and the criticism.

It would be a good test, for instance, to hear a government back-bencher making the second reading speech in favor of a bill he had not read. At present when he makes such a speech he at least has the advantage of having heard the minister's outline of the bill. On occasion, perhaps, he may make a better job of the subject.

An Outstanding Canadian

SEVERAL IN VICTORIA AND OTHERS in various parts of British Columbia were colleagues of Sir George McLaren Brown in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in the latter years of the last century. They had watched him rise in his organization to the important position he held when he retired two years ago.

A man of many parts, railway executive, industrialist, and sportsman, the late Sir George numbered among his intimate friends and business associates some of the most distinguished public men in the British Empire. In recognition of valued service in general—but particularly his expert organizing and administrative ability—as assistant director of movements and railways for the British War Office during the great conflict he was signally honored with a knighthood in 1919.

Well may it be said of Sir George that he was a part of the institution to which he gave all his working years. He grew up with the C.P.R. in Canada; he was to all intents and purposes the business driving force of the C.P.R. in Europe for more than a quarter of a century as the company's Old World general manager. Thus at the age of 74 death had ended a life that had been well lived. Many are mourning the passing of Sir George McLaren Brown.

Sir Max

MAX BEERBOHM'S SUGGESTION OF years ago that the day might come when knighthood would be made one of the lighter punishments of the law, has been dug up by the New York Sun to be used against him. Now that knighthood has been conferred upon Max himself, English commentators have not been slow to suggest that in his case knighthood is a mild punishment for not having written more of late years.

The volumes produced by this gifted caricaturist and writer have always been slim ones; they have been infrequent as well. Yet his public cannot complain that he did not warn them for his first thin book was published as the "Works" of Max Beerbohm. It is probably not in the nature of writers of Max's genius to produce in quantity what is qualitatively so acceptable; nor is it in the nature of those who read such an author to be willing to be satisfied with limited quantity of unlimited quality.

An Outworn Argument

CANADA'S DISCIPLES OF HIGH PROTECTION ought to take Dr. Manion on one side and give him a post-graduate course on tariff arguments. This is just a friendly hint because in his speech at Kakabeka Falls, on Monday, the leader of the Conservative party trotted out the old chestnut that the object of the tariff was to build up home markets and "not to raise prices."

Even as recently as 1930 this funny argument seemed to go down with a sufficient number of the electorate to win success for the Conservative party. But the people of Canada soon realized that tariff protection is an operative economic formula to protect the few at the expense of the majority—or it would not be called protection. They know, to their cost, that every time the customs duty goes up, the consumer pays the extra impost.

War slogan: Youth will be served—on a platter.

It is getting around to that jocular time of year again, as the Portland Oregonian reminds us, when beautiful friendships are abruptly disrupted by slapping one's pal on a sunburned back.

$1,000 BILLS GO UP IN SMOKE

From Financial Post
Another $25,000 was recently voted by Parliament for capital improvements on the Hudson Bay Railway. It is not a large vote, as government votes go, but it is, nevertheless, just another $25,000 thrown away with the recklessness of the man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo and lighted $1 cigars with $1,000 bills.

Last year, according to the Minister of Transport, someone wanted to ship a cargo of binder twine to Churchill. They could not do it because there was no grain at Churchill to make a return cargo. There was no grain at Churchill, Mr. Howe's answer made clear, because of the greater economy of the Port William route.

He added, however, that 1,000,000 bushels of grain had gone out at the end of last season and there was now grain in storage at Churchill.

A million bushels of grain on a route where the annual interest and operating charges are upward of $2,000,000! The grain could have been grown in flower pots in Kew Gardens at less than its cost to transport it over the railway and through the port that the western grain growers demanded but do not bother to use.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

A HANGING MATTER

IT IS MY CONSIDERED and seasoned opinion that books, in quantity, are the bunk. Buying a set of books is like having quintuplets—the beauty of each is sure to get lost in the confusion of numbers. No one with judgment has either.

If any salesman with a set of books, nicely illustrated and rather hard to move off the publisher's shelves, calls on me I shall certainly hang him to my Northern Spy tree. No, that would dignify him too much. I shall hang him from the Winter Banana or the Grimes Golden. And good enough for him.

For many years I was a push-over for every man with a set of books to sell. Before me as I write are four separate sets of anthologies, the very gems and quintessence of the world's literature, too beautiful and sacred to be touched, and I have never touched them. The pages have never been cut, the contents never sullied by human eye.

One can take a single book at a time, master it, tame it, conquer it and keep it in its place, but a set of 50 books overpowers a man. He pays his $50, puts the books on the shelf and goes out and buys the Saturday Evening Post to read. No, there is only one way to amass a library and that is, lovingly, book by book, as the spirit moves you, or rather as the color of the wrapper lures you. A man can love a single volume. He can't love wholesale. Polygamy just won't work in literature.

So, last night, I did the mistakes of a lifetime. I had a poor young man under my roof, a fellow starting out in life with empty bookshelves at home, and his eyes opened wide when I offered him my anthologies, for a man in the first stages of collecting a library is like a diseased goldfish which will gulp at anything. He bore away as many of my beautiful, shiny, untouched and virginal books as he could carry, a glazed and lustful look on his face. He said he would feast on them. But I knew they would never be opened; that he would be giving them away to some other poor victim inside 10 years and cursing me for my generosity.

It was a dirty trick I played on him, but I had to have some room for the tattered, well-used, thumb-printed volumes that I love. Better to own one of these, to be its slave, than to be sneered at from every shelf by the world's classics.

Yes, my Winter Banana tree is strong enough to hold any book salesman.

PRAIRIE FLOWERS

DOWN ON THE CANADIAN PRAIRIES they have lately observed the Fascist mind working at its best. At St. Walburg, Saskatchewan, a band of Sudeten Germans settled down to farm because, as they said in a proclamation, they had fled from their homeland when Hitler took it over, "rather than have a foreign ideology forced on us in concentration camps." This made the German Nazis of Canada hopping mad.

St. Walburg must be a jolly place. The Canadian war veterans found it necessary to show the Nazis that their ideas are not welcome here. They burned an effigy of Hitler in the streets. Whereupon the Deutsche Zeitung Fier Canada, the Nazi organ in this country, proclaimed a remarkable doctrine. It questioned whether war veterans' processions "have an irritating effect on other fellow citizens and so are, or are not, likely to disturb national unity in Canada." And it thought that the singing of God Save the King when Hitler's effigy was being burned was "a breach of good usage."

And finally it said that it was none of Canada's business whether Germans in this country sympathized with Nazism or not, "for those are inner affairs of Canadian Germanism and questions of political conscience for every individual of German extraction without his political loyalty as a Canadian citizen being affected thereby."

None of our business if Nazis are organizing Bunds and Storm Troops and Hell Hitler cells in this country. None of our business if their first loyalty is to the Fuehrer and not to Canada.

This poses a difficult question. If we are to suppress Fascism and other methods of thought in Canada we shall probably have to go Fascist ourselves to do it. Where can you draw the line? If we stop men advocating Fascism we shall presently stop them advocating Socialism or Capitalism.

Probably the line should be drawn at the Canadian border. If people want to advocate Fascism or Communism they should be allowed to do so, provided they don't advocate violence, and provided it is Canadian Fascism or Communism. If it has anything to do with German Fascism or Russian Communism, it should be out. But such stupid fellows as the editor of the Deutsche Zeitung Fier Canada are simply inviting war veterans to burn Hitler's effigy. They are inviting Canada to get mad and crack down on Nazism altogether and on freedom of thought generally. Such a movement is always hard to stop.

CATCH FISH, AND HOW

Albert Ovadia, Seattle fish market owner, has a system whereby a person can truthfully say he caught a fish. Ovadia throws fish into the arms of customers who ask for such wide, sweeping, side-arm delivery.

Ovadia calls attention to his service with this verse:

"If it is your wish,
We will throw you the fish,
Whether salmon, tuna or trout,
So you can truthfully say
You caught them today,
In case there be any doubt."

Youth Wants Security First

CHIEF DESIRE of the youth of today is for security as represented by a job, according to an analysis of detailed expressions by more than 350,000 high school students competing for the annual Youth Forum awards offered by the American Magazine.

The 361,000 boys and girls who participated, under the supervision of their high school instructors, expressed themselves on innumerable subjects, but with particular emphasis on employment, redistribution of wealth, national security and matters allied to these.

"If there is one thing that ties the youth of today together," reports John Dungan, director of the Forum, "it is the desire for security. What youth wants is jobs; youth wants to work. The young people of the country do not feel hopeless. They are slightly dubious as to exactly what they will be doing 10 years from now, but they are nevertheless undaunted."

Other conclusions which Mr. Dungan has drawn from the mass of material studied follow:

"Agriculture, an old frontier that can be made into a brand new one with scientific application, is given surprising prominence by modern youth. The back-to-the-farm movement is mentioned time, and again as a solution to unemployment. The farm boy no longer seems to have the inclination to escape to the big city; he seems to have a few pride in an old occupation. At the same time he realizes the importance of more knowledge of new agricultural trends and wants to be well educated along these lines."

YOUTH'S RESPECT for science amounts almost to worship. In this field it sees the answer to almost all the world's problems: Science will rid the world of disease, create new industries through research and generally form the keynote of a new civilization. Through scientific planning youth envisions the city of the future as an ideal community in which adequate housing is a thing of the past, living standards are higher, and everybody, or nearly everybody, will have an airplane.

"Concerning big business, youth does not want private industry curtailed, but resents the idea that great wealth should be under the control of a few people, while others are inadequately provided for. Redistribution of wealth is advocated and a limit on profits is favored."

"The general economic thinking of youth is represented by the idea that a shorter working day at proportionately higher wages would necessitate the employment of additional people also at higher wages, and that this actually would work to the benefit of the employer because the present evil is not overproduction but underconsumption, and additional people employed would be additional purchasers of goods."

"Youth regards freedom of the press as a valuable possession and one for which the United States should be envied. It feels that a publisher may be interested in the side of the news most to his interest and recommends that people read two papers of opposing views."

"What youth has to say about religion would fill volumes. The conclusion seems to be that a deeper religious feeling and the actual practice of some religion is a profound need in the world today. Sects and creeds are considered of minor importance to the general worship of a universal God."

More than $5,000 in cash prizes will be awarded to those chosen by the board of judges, and in addition the two chief winners will receive an all-expense vacation at the World's Fair in New York. Announcement of the awards will be made soon.

BOMB TERRORISM IN LONDON

From Portland Oregonian

Perhaps someone in England—or Ireland—has been re-reading the final chapter of Anatole France's "Penguin Island" and is setting out to make life follow art. Certainly the bombings in London bear a resemblance to those described by France as taking place at some future time in a "world city" of 15,000,000 persons. Only these are pitiful and in miniature, whereas M. France, being bound by the laws of imagination rather than by those of chemistry, neatly put his world city out of working order in a trifle more than 100 days, and within a few generations had herds grazing over the grass upon the ruins, and hunters pursuing the indifferent beasts.

In France's dramatic conception, the destroyer is a young clerk by the name of George Clair, attached to the electricity trust. He sat in a park on a hill holding the hand of a fair young thing from the telegraph office, one Caroline Meslier. Their eyes dilated with pleasure as they watched the buildings ascend here and there where he had planted his infernal machines. Thus was the senseless agglomeration of millions efficiently dispersed, and all, apparently, for the best.

But if the London bombers are of the persuasion of George Clair, at least they are premature in their solution. M. France provided his destroyer with an explosive sufficient to the problem; on the other hand, the five bombs which went off Saturday night at different places in the general vicinity of Piccadilly Circus and the Strand did little more than break some windows and crumble a couple of walls. No one could seriously attempt to destroy civilization by this thimbleful method. So we will have to give up that interesting fancy. It looks as though we would have to accept the more commonplace explanation that the bomb explosions are only the Irish nationalists saying boo, give us back Belfast or else.

GIVING RUSSIA RESPECTABILITY

From Financial Post

In the House of Commons, A. A. Heaps, M.P. from Winnipeg, pressed the minister to clamp down on Nazi-Fascist propaganda activities in Canada. Mr. Lapointe, in reply, indicated that this was indeed the policy of the government, but he expressed the opinion that neither Nazi nor Fascist nor Communist activities had become a serious political factor in Canada. This reply did not appeal to Mr. Heaps, who asked that the three influences should not be lumped "at a time when Russia is expected to come to the rescue of some of the other democratic nations."

This brought from Mr. Lapointe the comment that whatever military pacts were entered into in European countries, he would abhor Communism as such as much as the other two.

This is fair comment and will appeal to most Canadians. It would be a tragedy if negotiations for a military pact with Russia were to be regarded as an excuse for cloaking the doctrines of totalitarian oppression—as practiced equally in Russia and Germany—in a robe of respectability.

WHY WHEAT IS GROWN

From the Calgary Herald

The farmers of western Canada grow more wheat than any other crop for the simple but sound reason that wheat does better in many areas than any other farm plant that will grow on the prairies. Wheat is a drought-resistant plant and the prairies are regions of comparatively light rainfall, so that year in and year out wheat will yield more pounds of dry matter than any other grain.

The average farmer knows that he cannot go on producing wheat on his land year after year. Each crop takes certain fertility out of the soil and this must be restored or the yields will go down, and in time the farm will become worthless. The problem of restoring fertility to western acres must be solved sooner or later. Much of the farm land in the west has been cropped from a quarter to a half a century and the days of big yields have departed.

Handweaving Display To Open On Monday

If leisure is to fulfill its whole purpose it must be creative. It is for this reason the Victoria Women's Institute has seen fit to promote handicrafts through the winter months and more especially the art of weaving, through the D. I. Weavers' Guild.

The young and the old, the student and the teacher alike will be interested in the forthcoming handweaving display in the Duke of Kent Room, Empress Hotel, opening Monday, July 3, and continuing to July 5. This exhibition hopes to be representative of many centres throughout Canada, including a local exhibit of the island weavers, also the Pacific coast as far south as Mexico and California.

It will be free to the public and is intended to be educational, and also interest and acquaint the public and tourist generally of what is being done in the field of handweaving both by the expert and the amateur.

Successful Fete Held At Mrs. Jutson Fisher's

Ideal weather added the final touch of perfection to the arrangements of the annual garden fete held at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jutson Fisher, Ten Mile Point, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill. As a result of the fete, the handsome sum of $175 was realized.

The affair was opened by Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, who was introduced by Rev. F. Pike, rector of St. Luke's. Colonel G. A. Phillips was general convener. Mr. V. Sherman had charge of the game of darts, which was very popular. Clock golf was played. Stalls of home cooking, candy, flowers and garden produce were arranged on the lawns and under the trees, against a setting of brilliant flower borders.

Tea was served by the Woman's Auxiliary, with Mrs. G. Lifton in charge, members of the A.Y.P.A. assisting in serving, and also with the games.

WEDDINGS

STEVENS-HUGHES

At a quiet but pretty wedding at 1:30 this afternoon, at the Bishop's Palace, View Street, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Baker united in marriage Ann Thorne, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thorne Hughes, to Mr. Clarence Douglas Stevens of Old Fort, Babine Lake, B.C., son of Mr. Clarence Bent Stevens of Montreal, formerly of Amherst, Nova Scotia, and the late Mrs. Stevens.

Under the direction of Mrs. R. Dickenson, a friend of the bride, the drawing-room, where the ceremony was performed, was beautifully arranged with roses and spirals. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an attractive figure in her bolero suit of aqua blue crepe, with white hat and accessories, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. Miss Maureen Dare was her only attendant and Mr. Mell T. Hughes, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Later an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms being arranged with a profusion of summer flowers. The three-tiered wedding cake centred the luncheon table, which was covered with a lace cloth and arranged with Cecil Brunner roses and pink and white tapers in silver candlesticks.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. J. Mellon of Vancouver, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. J. C. Davie of Deep Cove and Mr. Pat Clark, a cousin, of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will spend a honeymoon up-island, the bride traveling in a teal blue suit, with canary-yellow blouse, brown topcoat and shoes and hat to match.

They will make their home in the Athabasca district, where Mr. Stevens is post manager in the Hudson's Bay Company's fur department.

STRAIN-McDONALD

PORT ALBERNI — Candela-bras, with standards of peonies, tulips, ferns and roses were used as a background at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Strain for the wedding last evening at 7:30, when their youngest daughter, Frances Helena, became the bride of Mr. William James McDonald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDonald, pioneer residents of Port Alberni. Rev. A. McLean officiated and Mr. J. A. McWha supported the bridegroom. Mrs. J. B. Wood provided the music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Drescott model gown of heavy georgette in fuchsia tone, circled with pin tucks to hips, and high-crown Quaker hat, draped with chin-chilla dotted veil. Her bouquet was composed of orchids. Mrs. Reginald Patterson was her sister's matron of honor, wearing turquoise-blue suede lace, with burgundy buttons, belt and hat. Her corsage was of pink roses.

At the reception, Mrs. Strain and Mrs. McDonald received the guests, the former wearing robin's egg blue, fashioned with jacquette entirely applied in corded design, golden russet hat and corsage of roses; the latter gowned in poudre blue suede lace, with marine blue hat and accessories, and corsage of pink roses. The bride's table was centred with a wedding cake in Maltese cross design, flanked with lighted tapers and vases of pink roses.

and violets. When the bride left on her honeymoon to Victoria, en route for San Francisco, she donned a smart topcoat in fuchsia wool. On their return, they will take up residence at Port Alberni.

Victoria guests present at the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Fairbairn, Crescent Avenue, uncle and aunt of the bride.

HUDSON-RICKARD

Mr. Ernest P. Hudson, of the Stewart-Hudson Sawmills of Langford and Victoria, was married yesterday morning at 11 to Miss Frances Rickard of Qualicum Beach, the ceremony taking place at the Pentecostal Tabernacle. The bride wore a white suit, hat and accessories.

Mr. Geoffrey Stewart was best man and the bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Brien, Qualicum Beach.

A wedding luncheon was served to a few friends at the Dominion Hotel, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hudson left for a tour of the mainland and Sound cities, and on their return will reside at 440 George Road, Victoria.

Spend July 1 In the Great Out Doors

July 1 comes on a long weekend this year. The first long holiday of the summer! If the weather is warm and bright—as we have reason to believe it will be—everyone will be planning to be out of doors. There will be picnics and all-day excursions to the woods or to the hills. Some will be starting their long summer vacation. Others will go off on week-end parties or on lazy boating trips.

Vancouver Island has much to offer for just such a long holiday. There are vacation spots along the Island Highway to please every wish or whim.
Beaches, lakes, mountains, streams and woodlands. Spend this coming holiday week-end in the great outdoors! All Vancouver Island is calling!

Cadboro Bay—Close to the city but offering a pleasant day or week-end holiday. There is a wide sandy beach, several charming guests houses and afternoon tea spots.

Cordova Bay—A favorite summer playground for young and old alike. White sand beach, warm bathing, tearooms and auto camps.

Brentwood—A charming little summer resort tucked in a bend of the shore on Saanich Inlet.
Fishing, boating and swimming favorite pastimes. Lovely little resort hotel near ferry landing.

Deep Cove—Quiet, peaceful countryside surroundings at the end of the West Saanich Road. A pretty resort in a lovely old-fashioned garden. Just the place for relaxation and ease.

Sooke—Another pleasant run from Victoria is either to East Sooke, which takes the pleasure-seeker along the waterfront for many miles, or to West Sooke, where the road winds inland from the sea until it touches Sooke Harbor and the many beauty spots found there. East Sooke and West Sooke have much that makes for a perfect holiday.

Shawnigan Lake—A tiny mountain lake set like a jewel in the shadow of green hills just a few miles off the main Island Highway near the summit of the Malahat. The air is crisp and healthful, filled with the essence of mountain evergreens. Here, there is sport for all.

Mill Bay—Just on the other side of the Malahat. One hour's run from Victoria. Good road.
Bus service. A beautiful, sweeping shoreline giving the effect of a landlocked lake. Mount Baker looks far in the distance and many other summer attractions.

Cowichan Bay—Again a landlocked bay surrounded by green sloping hills. There is much of interest in this district both for those who love the water or the quiet beauty of hills and woodland trails. Cowichan Bay is known far and wide for its excellent fishing.

Maple Bay—Here is one of the most delightful spots on the island. Warm, sunny. Good bathing. Delightful surroundings.
Charming hotel. Safe anchorage for yachts and small boats.

Saltair—A delightful little vacation spot with one of the most beautiful views on Vancouver Island. There is boating and fishing and warm sea bathing as well as many games courts and other summer attractions. Salt-air has the name of bringing health back to many who have stayed in this sunny district.

Yellow Point—Nine miles north of Ladysmith a winding road leaves the Island Highway, to wind in and out through tall green trees where green slopes run down to the sea and where carpets of wild flowers bloom throughout the summer. Delightfully cool on the hottest day,
Yellow Point boasts warm sea bathing. There are facilities here for yachts and small seagoing craft.

Nanaimo—A busy little town.
A centre where visitors spend many happy hours before turning south to Victoria or north to the end of the road. Good bus, train and boat service daily.

Wall Beach—A perfect place for children. There is a safe sandy beach, warm sea bathing, a shoreline dotted with great cedar trees and the clean smell of the sea over all.

Parksville—Sandy beaches, pleasant auto camps, well-kept farmlands and beautiful country residences. All make Parksville a most desirable place to spend a vacation.

Qualicum—Here is a vacation district that is known far and wide. The beach with its wide sandy shore, silvery sand, the surrounding district filled with rivers, streams and falls, the fishing and the mountains in the background make Qualicum an ideal holiday land.

Qualicum Bay—A few miles north of Qualicum Beach. Up and coming little community with much to offer vacationists. Good beach, pleasant auto camps. English countryside inn. Many outdoor summer activities.

Alberni—A quiet little district with a charm all its own. Rivers, streams and lakes all within a short distance. Little auto camps tucked in tree-shaded parks along the winding river.

Royston—Here is a resort to make as headquarters for a complete tour of northern Vancouver Island. There is a modern auto camp with every convenience.
Pleasant little community. Warm and sunny.

Comox—A beautiful peninsula stretching out from the city of Courtenay. It has long stretches of white sand beach, secluded bays and green woodlands.
Comox is a favorite summer land.

Forbidden Plateau—For a mountain holiday there is none better. There are lakes and rivers and hills. There are mountain flowers and strange rock formations. There is the red snow, a mystery that defies explanation.
The Forbidden Plateau certainly should not be overlooked in this year's holiday plans.

Campbell River—The home of the great Tye salmon. More than that, it is a fast-growing summer community on the edge of Vancouver Island's great northern woods and streams. Beautiful view.

URGES PRESS AID EMPIRE STABILITY

Lionel Curtis Gives
Union Advice for Times
Of European Crisis

LONDON (CP)—Lionel Curtis of the Institute of International Affairs told the Empire Press Union conference here today he believed Europe would see in August a more dangerous crisis than in September, 1938, and urged newsmen to "guard against the fact that expressions of temperate and constructive opinion seldom are as good copy as pungent, destructive criticism."

Mr. Curtis said that during and after the September crisis British foreign policy had been widely condemned in the Dominions and the United States and that he noticed cables from London of speeches and articles attacking British policy occupied more space and were given greater prominence than speeches and articles defending that policy.

He declared that "what a journalist means by news is less what is true or important than what is arresting," and added:

"Speeches and articles attacking the British government during the great crisis were far more arresting than speeches and articles uttered in its defence." He said correspondents had no sinister political motives, but were just doing their jobs as they had been trained to do them.

"I had long talks with ministers at Canberra (Australia) who approved of the policy of the British government wholeheartedly," Mr. Curtis said. "Their opinion was in striking contrast to that of editors I met who had to rely entirely on the press cables from London. The net result was a kind of unfavorable opinion of British policy through the English-speaking world overseas, which developed during and after the Munich crisis."

"I make these frank remarks because I believe we are now on the eve of another such crisis. . . . I believe that in August when Parliament rises the world will be faced by another and even more dangerous crisis. If the Reich claims to annex Danzig as it claimed to annex the Sudetenland, Poland will fight and then we shall fight as we fought over Belgium in 1914. . . . At this eleventh hour I plead with you who employ the men who will select and cable the news you publish overseas to be on watch against the inevitable tendency of their training and profession. I beg you to ask them to do their best to select the news they cable less for its striking quality than for its intrinsic importance."

MORE EMPIRE NEWS PRINTED IN CANADA

Canadian Press President
Tells London Meeting
Little in British Papers

LONDON (CP)—W. Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard and president of the Canadian Press told the Empire Press Union at its convention here today that Canadian newspapers generally gave about 100 times more space to news from the United Kingdom and other parts of the Empire than British papers gave to Empire news and that they were more interested in Empire life than the United Kingdom press.

Referring to suggestions of newspaper sensationalism and distortion, Mr. Davies declared the charges arose not so much from the fault of the newspapers as of governments. He said the press was not sufficiently on the inside in current affairs and that there was need of greater confidence by governments, giving newspapers the background on their policies.

He urged that responsible editors should be afforded official information of importance, particularly in times of emergency. James Dillon, member of the Parliament of Eire, said he was "convinced that if at this moment an assault were made on Britain the object of which was to destroy those things in the world for which she at present stands, there would be no part of the Commonwealth in this hemisphere or the other which would not support her and do all that lay within their power to help her in that hour of crisis."

H. V. Hodson, editor of the Round Table Review, urged establishment at important centres in the Dominions of libraries for information on current affairs, which would deal with official communications and their background in much the same way as the British information office in New York supplies information.

Such offices, he said, would correct such ideas as that prevalent in some parts of Britain is a land of millionaires and paupers. He also suggested establishment of radio relay points in the Empire at key points which would boost the signals in new transmission, assuring good reception under difficult conditions, which is not always possible at present.

Concert Marks School Closing

Marking the close of the school year, a concert and afternoon tea was held in the auditorium of the North Ward School yesterday.

The girls of Quada and North Ward graduating classes modelled their colorful dresses which they had made in the home economics courses and received continuous applause from the large and appreciative audience. The fashion show was followed by a finished program consisting of choir singing, group folk dances, recitations, violin solos, pianoforte duets and solos, and a Junior Red Cross play.

Afternoon tea, prepared and served by the graduating classes, was held in the home economics centre.

The practical and graphic arts classes of the school displayed highly-polished tables, book-stands, a large historical panel of the age of chivalry, artistic scrap-books of the King's visit, and carefully-prepared science notebooks.

The school board was represented by Mr. and Mrs. P. E. George, Mrs. A. S. Christie and F. G. Mulliner. In the audience were George Way, many former teachers of the North Ward staff, and representatives of the Victoria Women's Institute.

Langford

A program of songs and recitations was given by the students at the Langford School closing exercises this week.

The following program was given: Recitations, Robin Ray, Beverly Fidler, Jean Beaton, Viola Savage, Mona Moore, Cecil Temple and Ritchie LeQuessnel; songs, Junior room and senior room.

Pen Is Mightier

OAKLAND, Cal. (UP)—Oratory is not the least of the qualifications of Policeman William S. Murphy. Sent to arrest a man who had barricaded himself and kept a rifle pointed through a crack at the policeman, Murphy painted such an eloquent word picture of the agonies of a man being gassed at San Quentin for murder that the man dropped the rifle and exclaimed: "You've convinced me. I just can't shoot."

BELGRADE (CP)—Child

marriages among Balkan gypsies are not infrequent, but Aysha Selimovich, 13, and married last year, startled friends with a healthy baby boy. "The mother 'hoofing' about 10 herself," is doing well.

Giants Move Into Second

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

IF THE HOPES of those who produced the new cyclodrome are realized, there's no telling where Victoria may go in the pedal-pushing world.

For years the city's riders and those interested in the game planned and worked for a track. They have one now which, according to such experts as the Peden brothers, is the equal of any of its kind in the country. Tonight, after days of practice, local formers will give the track its baptism of competitive racing. Those who have watched the boys work out look for a first-class show.

It will be interesting to see the reaction in competitive circles to the new track. It has been the dream of many. It has been a goal to which organizers have pointed as a means of increasing the popularity of the sport and raising the standard of performance.

"I think it will mean that Victoria riders will dominate the whole of Canada before very long," Torchy Peden declares. "We have riders here who know the game thoroughly and they are all anxious to help along the new comers."

"The track will bring out more riders and will provide for specialization in sprints. The enjoyment the boys get from nightly workouts is sufficient to keep them interested and in shape. The gate the association will draw from meets, and the leaders are figuring on one a week, will provide funds for a good racing program. It will mean there should be no more begging for sponsors of races. And those who were making regular donations were getting a little tired of contributing to something which provided no returns."

"With the Olympic Games scheduled next year, the facilities provided by the track, and the coaching of the old riders, the city should produce a fine crop of performers."

Yes, it should be mighty interesting to see how the game develops in the future. When it was a matter of individual initiative, Victoria's bike riders did quite well for themselves, as evidenced by the brothers Peden, Torchy and Doug; Lew Rusty, Rusty Peden, Stan Jackson and others of the roadwork days. Certainly the responsibility is directly up to the competitors now. They have all the equipment they need to climb right to the top. They have the examples to follow. And it's to be hoped they have the drive to carry themselves through.

Youngsters of Victoria with a will to play tennis are given a golden opportunity to master the rudiments of the game in the coaching classes arranged again this year by W. E. "Reg" Corfield and his associates.

Public instruction, free of charge, has been given in Seattle for some years now and the standard of junior players has been greatly increased by it. In the local courses competent teachers will give the young aspirants the foundation of strokes and tennis tactics, which should provide a good background for development of a rising tide of Victoria challengers when invading stars come from the south for provincial and Canadian championships here in future.

Bill Dale, whose performance on collegiate tracks this year has stamped him as one of the best on the coast—he's beaten them all from Seattle to Los Angeles in the half mile—will be back running for the Y.M.C.A. this summer.

Bill's return to carry the colors of the Flying V marks just another chapter in one of those stories of coach-athlete companionships that make amateur sport worthwhile.

Archie McKinnon picked Dale up out of High School when the gangling youngster gained an upset victory in the senior aggregate championship. Dale responded to McKinnon's coaching and went on to win honors as a schoolboy both locally and in the national field. That was some seasons ago. Since then coach and runner have each increased their stature in the track and field world. And each has yet to be disappointed in the other.

Victoria's Crystal Garden, the swimming pool of which citizens are justifiably proud, draws the praise of Dorothy Poynton Hill, world Olympic women's tower.

New York Club Smashes Phillies 7 to 1 to Gain in Baseball Race

If anyone wishes to make something of it, the New York Yankees still are the slugging Samsons of baseball.

There were a few sly digs made earlier this season about the champions losing interest or the touch for home-run sprees.

But yesterday they swamped Philadelphia Athletics under a spray of 13 homers to sweep a doubleheader, 23 to 2 and 10 to 0, and break the existing major league record for homers both in one game and in two consecutive games.

The eight blows the Bronx Bombers bunched in the first game broke a mark established by Detroit in 1886 and tied just five times since then.

Besides setting a new home-run record the Yanks also set an American League standard for total bases with 53, three more than the 1936 Yankees put together in a single contest.

All the other American League clubs were idle. Cincinnati Reds, National League pace-setters, were rained out of their scheduled night game with Pittsburgh Pirates.

New York Giants took advantage of this situation to move into second place in the National League with a 7 to 1 victory over Philadelphia Phillies while St. Louis Cardinals were absorbing an 8 to 4 thumping from Chicago Cubs.

Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Bees got down to business after a 23-inning stand-off Tuesday. Dodgers triumphed 6 to 1.

COAST LEAGUE

Air-tight pitching by a couple of good right-handers enabled Los Angeles Angels to step up a full game at the top of the Coast Baseball League last night.

Fay Thomas of Los Angeles pitched four-hit ball at Hollywood as he blanked the sixth-place Stars, 7 to 0, and Bill Schmidt gave up only six hits as Sacramento upset the second-place Seattle Rainiers at Sacramento, 12 to 1.

Los Angeles, now in the lead by a game and a half, scored four runs in the fifth and kept up the attack on Joe Bittner until he was relieved in the ninth by Jimmy Crandall. The Angels got 12 hits off Bittner and Crandall.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was in the stands at Sacramento to see the Cardinal chain club which is trailing in the Coast League cellar. Sacramento played an inspired game, pushing over four runs in each of the sixth and seventh as the Solons collected 12 hits off three Rainier twirlers.

Outfielder Max Marshall hit two home runs. San Francisco's third-place Sals blasted 18 hits off three Oakland pitchers to rout the Oaks, 10 to 5, at San Francisco. The Seals, harried by the injury jinx the past few weeks, signed Jarlan Pool, veteran major and minor league catcher and outfielder. He played five innings last night, getting two singles in three turns at the plate.

In yesterday's only day game, Portland's Beavers defeated San Diego, 6 to 3, at San Diego.

List Smart Program

Lacrosse, Baseball, Cricket and Water Sports Set for Saturday

Three exhibitions of Canada's national game, two baseball fixtures, a regatta and a cricket match will feature Victoria's celebration of Dominion Day on Saturday, according to the program confirmed today.

Young lacrosse players will open the day's festivities at 9 on Saturday morning as Short's Shorties meet the Pirates in a midday exhibition at the Athletic Park.

In the evening local boxa squads will face up-land competition in a double-header at the Victoria Sports Centre. Saanich Young Liberals will take the floor at 7:30 in a juvenile encounter against Nanaimo. At 8:45 the Alert Service will provide the feature against Nanaimo seniors in a renewal of island conflict which has gained noteworthy support from the public in former years.

Baseball followers are promised a pair of smart exhibitions at the Athletic Park at 10:30 in the morning and 2:30 in the afternoon as Victoria's All-Stars open their 1939 campaign for the John Hart Cup against Port Angeles, present holders of the trophy.

The fixtures here will be the first two of a two out of three series, the third, if necessary, being played across the Straits at a future date.

REGATTA

As the aquatic highlight of the day, the Victoria J.B.A.A. will look for new through-Victoria champions in singles, doubles and four-oared events in a regatta scheduled to start at 2:15. Finishes will be at the Gorge.

In the singles Fred Parker will match strokes with Fred Crouch. Jack McDonald and Don Davis will oppose Jim Temple and Hugh Francis in the doubles. In the fours D. Mowat, J. Munzie, M. Sharran and A. Roberts will row against Morgan, B. Mair, M. Winkler and L. Paterson.

Ten swimming events have been arranged by the Pacific Swimming Club to complete the program. The races will be staged from the float close to the "Free" opposite which the crew duels will finish. The shells will be started at the Causeway for the through-Victoria jaunts.

A band will be in attendance at the Gorge. Starting at 10:30 in the morning Victoria Saturday leaguers will meet the weekend all-stars of Vancouver in an all-day cricket match at Macdonald Park.

SPEEDBOAT RACES

Up-land, speedboat races will be staged by the Vancouver Island Outboard Racing Association at Shawnigan Lake. Time trials will start at 11 in the morning and a parade of boats at 1:45 will open the afternoon contests.

A dance and prize presentation ceremony at the Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association Hall in the evening will complete the festivities for the day at the lake.

Visiting drivers scheduled to compete for the valuable collection of trophies at stake in the meet include: W. Van Dyke, Lorne Garden, Dave W. Clerg and Don McRae, Seattle; Fred and Clark, Victoria; and Schwar 7-5, 5-7, 6-3.

Galento Gets Royal Welcome

Hundreds of His Pals Greet Two-Ton When He Arrives Back at Tavern

ORANGE, N.J. (CP)—Battered and still dazed, his features obliterated by a criss-cross of adhesive tape, Antonio Galento came faithfully "home" in the small hours this morning to receive a roaring welcome from more than 2,000 of the faithful. And those who came to scoff joined in the cheers.

"Home" was Tony's modest tavern off the main stem here and the "faithful" the same crowd—Italian compatriots, Poles, Irish, Scots and even negroes from the adjoining black belt—who had seen the stout-hearted bartender wade through reams of ridicule into the spotlight of a world's heavyweight boxing bout.

Tony was a mess when he arrived shortly after 2 a.m. Even the surgeon's skill and three-hour interlude could not efface the terrible battering he took from Joe Louis in the fourth round of their championship fight.

MEETS PRESS

But gallant to the end and still in gargantuan moods, Tony's first act to grab a bottle of beer from an admirer's hand.

"Gimme dat beer, ya bum," he hollered and the crowd went wild. Tony threw back his bloody head and drank to the dregs.

It took the strong-arm work of a score of official and self-appointed bodyguards to squeeze Tony into the Galento kitchen where he met the press.

"Day guy hits hard, but I nearly had him," was the beer barrel's only comment.

"A million bucks, a million bucks, slipped through our hands twice in three rounds," moaned Joe (we wuz robbed) Jacobs in the corner. "We're a cinch for another fight," quickly added Galento's manager who was so overwrought by the $1,000,000 might-have-been he forcibly ejected a heckling newspaperman from the kitchen gathering.

MAY MEET NOVA

NEW YORK (AP)—Such a great stand did Tony Galento make before Joe Louis sent him falling to his knees in the fourth round last night that he probably will be matched against Lou Nova, recent conqueror of Max Baer, in September.

Nova, at the ringside after the battle, said nothing would suit him better than a few shots at Tony, except a chance at the champion.

"If I ever stagger Louis the way Tony did he never would get away from me," he declared. "If I'd had him on the floor like Tony did, I would have kept him there. The fellow can't take a punch."

Motion pictures of last night's heavyweight title fight between Joe Louis and Tony Galento will be shown at the Plaza Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Manager Ralph Calladine announced today.

The film will show the colorful battle round by round and it is expected some of the major action will be depicted in slow motion.

JOE LOUIS

Fight By Rounds

NEW YORK (AP)—A round-by-round description of last night's Joe Louis-Tony Galento fight follows:

ROUND ONE

Galento came out in a crouch and both sparred. Galento landed a light left to the ear as he charged in. Louis tapped Tony twice. Galento landed three hard lefts to Louis' chin in a neutral corner and the champion held on. Tony rocked Joe with a right to the head. Galento moved in but missed two left hooks. Louis bounced a right off the challenger's forehead and right. Another right glowed to the body and eye. Joe missed a hard right hook. Galento clipped Joe with a right to the side of the face. Louis seemed afraid to open up. Another Galento left landed on the champion's mouth. They milled on the body in close quarters. Tony with a hard right and then both missed punches in close Galento held Louis around the neck and landed three short lefts. Galento's round.

ROUND TWO

Between rounds Galento's handlers administered to a cut on Tony's upper lip. Louis shot a straight left and took a left to the ear as he charged in. Louis tapped Tony with a hard right to the ear. A left hook staggered Tony. Louis banged left and right to the body in close quarters. Galento backed off from Tony's rush and landed left and right. Another right glowed Tony down. The champion hit Galento to the side of the face. Louis seemed then his aim at will against the ropes but Tony kept coming in close. Louis was the aggressor now and Tony's face was bloody from the punishment. Tony burst around Joe's neck as they moved around the ring. Louis smashed a left to the body. Tony was floored from a right and (Turn to Page 12, Col. 2)

'Amazing,' Says Doctor of Tony

Galento Not Bothered By Terrific Punishment And Disdains Hospital

ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—"It's amazing," said Dr. Max E. Stern, Newark physician at whose office Tony Galento stopped on his way back home from his date with the champion. "He was cut very badly."

Galento needed 23 stitches to close up the cuts in his face, and after getting repairs Two-Ton proceeded home and never thought about going to a hospital like many of Louis' previous challengers.

"The worst cuts," the physician added, "were those running along the right side of his nose, from just under the eye almost to the edge of the mouth; another along his lower lip, and a third at the top of the left eyelid."

The one along Tony's nose, the physician explained, had slashed almost all the way through to the inside of his mouth. The one on the lower-lip actually did slice right through.

"Yeah," shouted Tony, regard less, "and I still want another shot at that Louis. I gave the fans a show tonight, didn't I? and the next time I won't toss away my chances. I'll flatten him."

Tony Unable to Follow Up Advantage After Knocking Champ Down in Third

NEW YORK (CP)—There are two things certain today in this muddled world.

Joe Louis is a great heavy-weight boxing champion.

Tony Galento is a great fighting man.

Just as 99.9/10ths of the world expected, Joe and his dynamiting fists jarred Tony into bloody and abject submission last night.

Louis proved Tony was wrong in calling him "dat bum" by technically knocking him out after 11 minutes and 29 seconds memorable brawling.

But in defeat Tony, the beer-drinking swashbuckler from New Jersey, proved he wasn't the bum that almost everyone but himself and his family put him down to be. He was covered with glory as well as gore at the end.

When the expected finish came in the fourth round as the shuffling champion poured killing rights and lefts into Galento's gargoyles-like face, the knees and stubby arms of the bold challenger had lost all their steel. But his head was unthorough.

He was a thoroughly beaten man, it is true. Blood fountained from cuts over his left eye and his upper lip. His hairy chest was matted with it, but just a round before his left hand, the only weapon he had to take into the ring, dumped Louis for a count of two.

MIGHT HAVE WON

Had Tony been able to follow up his advantage—had he spent his time learning ring generalship instead of being a whale of a good guy—he might have thundered home another left and won fistiana's brightest bauble.

Tony scored his amazing knock-down when Joe seemed to be off balance, backing away from a right. But the knockdown proved Tony's courage, for in the round before the champion floored his portly foe, also for a two-count.

To the utter amazement of the 34,852 spectators—they paid $283,303—Tony was not a defeated man until Louis cracked over his last flurry of decisive blows. Right to the end he buffed his way into the champion, never taking a backward step.

When it was over the weary champion said it was the hardest fight of his sensational career.

"I flung at least 100 punches at dat white man," said Joe. "He's the toughest customer I ever met."

While the tan terror of the ring thus stamped Galento as the No. 2 heavyweight, Tony wasn't ready to accept that ranking. He called for "Louis again in the fall."

"I still think I can whip that guy," said bold Anthony from the safety of his dressing-room. "If only they had let me fight my own kind of a fight."

North Shore in Surprise Defeat

Dominion Soccer Champs Defeated By St. Andrews In B.C. Playdowns

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada was assured today of a new Dominion soccer championship squad for 1939 as North Shore United, who traveled east to wrest the title in 1938, dropped from the British Columbia playdowns.

Two goals which the fast St. Andrews eleven manufactured in the first two minutes of play put the Dominion champions off their stride last night and the Scots ended up with a 3 to 1 victory which advanced them into the provincial final against the winner of Saturday's game between Radicals and St. Saviours.

Ernie Bradbury, St. Andrews' centre-forward took the ball from the kickoff last night and scored the first goal from the penalty area. Less than a minute later George Greig, Scots' right winger, passed to Bradbury and he made it 2 to 0 with but a minute of play gone.

The Bradbury-Greig combination scored a third goal for St. Andrews 20 minutes later. Bradbury lofted the ball near the goalmouth and his winger came in fast to smash a first time rising shot into the upper strands of the twine.

Down 3 to 0 at the half, the Dominion champions opened a fierce offensive drive in the second half but missed many chances through over anxiousness.

Midway through the period the Scots' goalie, Stan Stronge, went far out of the net to save a high cross. He cleared to Benny Hagman, his fullback, but before he could get back in the net, Mike McManus, North Shore centre-forward, robbed Hagman of the ball and shot a pass to Cecil Goodheart who tapped in the only goal for the champions.

LOUIS CUTS GAME GALENTO TO PIECES IN FOUR ROUNDS

It was obvious Tony was hobbled by the Marquis of Queensbury rules that prevented the bar-room tactics he loves—the occasional knee and the odd bit of elbow work. Twice Tony managed to butt Louis with his head, but it served only to make the champion fight harder.

ROCKED LOUIS
In the opening round Tony actually rocked the champion with a terrific left. It seemed for a fleeting instant the championship might fall into the fists that have drawn 10,000 beers. But Louis shuffled out of danger's way.

Tony came out for the second round with cotton blocking a gash over the eye. The Louis left promptly picked off the gauze and a right that followed ripped his other brow. Before Galento could get back on defence a murderous right and left to the jaw dropped him on his purple pants. He was back up and swinging with his left hand as the round ended.

In the next session Tony carried the fight to Louis. He smashed his left flush to the jaw. Maddened, Joe came whipping back and seemed to have Tony in retreat when the Jersey barkeep tagged him with a left. Joe went down as though clubbed, but quickly braced himself on the floor and was back up at the count of two. Tony lacked the finesse to shoot over a finishing punch.

Louis was his cool self when he came out for the fourth and fatal round. And Tony, arrogantly sure of himself after once dumping the champion, relaxed his guard for a second. Then the lightning-struck. Two lefts cracked on Tony's unprotected jaw. As he swayed Louis was upon him, smashing Tony's face with hard blows.

Tony rocked like a tilted barrel. Blood cascaded from his brows, into his eyes and down his three chins. Those tree-like legs of his rubbered and he fell to his knees, still groping for Louis. Referee Arthur Donovan stepped in to lift Galento's chin up 23 1/2 pounds to his corner.

EAGLES MARK UP ONE-SIDED WIN

Defeat Navy 27 to 1 In Senior Baseball League Encounter

Quite an explosion rocked the Athletic Park enclosure last night, but it wasn't caused by a bomb. It was merely the Navy blowing sky high.

Baseball fans have rarely seen a club go to pieces as badly as the sailors. When the smoke had finally cleared away from the park the opposition, Eagles, had a basketball score of 27 to 1.

It was a Rithet Cup game and lasted seven innings.

Navy Manager Charlie McDonald rushed in four twirlers during the evening but they got terrible support. Nine errors were chalked against the sailors.

Eagles only got 13 bingles but had bobbles enabled them to make hits good for many more runs.

While Eagles did most damage in the fifth when they pushed across 10 runs, they got nine runs in the second and seven in the third.

Stan Davies, Eagles' mound ace, turned in a sparkling performance. He only allowed five scattered base knocks. He fanned eight batters, one more than the Navy hurlers.

Navy will oppose Pitzer and Nex tomorrow night at Athletic Park in a Rithet Cup game.

Short score: R. H. E. Navy .0010 0 0 1 5 9 Eagles 0 9 7 1 (10) 0 x—27—13 1 Batteries: Murray, DeCosta, McIntyre, Chesterman, DeCosta and Lister; Davies and Bridgewood.

left to the face but was up with no count and hung on, as Louis tried to finish him. They fought in a neutral corner at the bell. Louis' round.

A right to the inside floored Louis. A left to the right in the corner as he was up with no count. Tony was on him and landed a left hook to the head. Joe then hung on momentarily.

It appeared that Tony had landed both left and right in flooring Louis in the third round. Tony charged in and the champion clinched. Louis landed two light lefts. Tony smashed a left to the face and in close mauling the champion. Louis landed a left but was short with right. A short left hand sent Tony on the mouth and another quipped a cut there. Joe shot left and right to the face and Tony's hurt. Tony landed a light left and then caught Tony's right to his face which had him staggered. The badly hurt Louis backed Tony against the ropes and hit him with both hands at will. He shot left and right to the face and Galento fell away from the ropes and dropped to his knees helpless, hanging to the ropes in his own corner as Louis won by a technical knockout in 5 minutes 29 seconds of the fourth round.

'Y' Runners Busy

Leave Town for Meets in Trail and Vancouver July 1 and 5

Coach Archie McKinnon and his Flying "Y" track and field team have a busy week ahead of them. On July 1 they will take part in the B.C. track and field championships in Trail, and on July 5 they will compete in the annual Vancouver police sports, staged by the Police Mutual Benevolent Association.

A team of five, in addition to the coach, left yesterday morning by car for Trail. There they will be strengthened by Bill Dale, star member of the local squad who has been running during the season for Washington State University. Dale will make the trip from Pullman, Washington.

On the afternoon of July 5 at 1 in the Hastings Park Oval, Vancouver, other members of the flying "Y" team will join the Trail team for the big police meet.

CONFIDENCE OF MIDDLE DISTANCES
On leaving yesterday morning, Coach McKinnon was confident of a clean sweep for his boys in the middle distances, anyway, of both meets.

Member of the Trail squad include: Dale, who will run the half and the mile; Joe Addison, the quarter and the half; Ward DeBeck, half and the mile; Hugh "Red" Thomson, Nanaimo, quarter and half; Art Brookman, 100 yards dash, broad jump and the hop step and jump; and Bill Thompson, shot put, discus and javelin.

A team of Dale, Bill Thompson, Addison and DeBeck will represent Victoria in the mile relay event. The quartette is exceptionally strong and a victory in the feature relay is most probable.

VANCOUVER TEAM

In Vancouver the team will be made up of those already mentioned, and Neal Craig, John Stewart, Bill Clarke and Norm Willis.

Dale will run the quarter, the half and the mile; Addison will take part in all the police events on the program—100 yards dash, 220 yards, the quarter, the half mile, the 100 yards dash in uniform and the broad jump; DeBeck will run the half and the mile; Bill Thompson will compete in the discus, throwing, 28-lb weight, 38-lb weight, javelin and 16-lb shot put; Brookman, the junior and senior 100-yard dashes; Craig, the junior quarter and the senior half; Stewart, the 100 yards senior and junior and the 220 senior; Clarke, the 100 junior, and Norm Willis, the junior 100 and quarter.

Dale, running under the Flying "Y" colors will be the feature of both meets. He has proved his ability in American college meets, winning the half mile recently in a Big Ten meet in Berkeley, Calif.

He will be home for the summer following the Vancouver meet. Next year it is expected that he will resume his college activities at Washington State.

Benefit Show By Chinese Actress

The return performance of Soo Yong, gifted and charming young Chinese actress, on July 5 at the Empire Theatre is causing interest. She will present a new program, including two delightful numbers in Chinese. These Miss Yong will explain in English so that the plot may be fully appreciated.

Since her last appearance here Miss Yong has toured the United States from Florida to Michigan.

Following her program here Miss Yong will sail from New York for Europe.

The benefit performance to be given by Miss Yong is being sponsored by the Canadian Friends of the Chinese People, Victoria branch, and the Committee for Medical Aid for China.

PIANO RECITAL

Pupils of Miss Eva Vowles, L. Mus. McGill, were heard in pianoforte recital at the New Thought Hall Saturday.

URGE BEACHES BE IMPROVED

Methods by which the condition of city beaches might be improved are listed in a recommendation from the Victoria District.

The report refers to the refuse found on various beaches and its detrimental effect.

The organization favors construction of an incinerator to burn garbage, regular inspection of beaches, an intensified clean-up campaign and development of Horse Shoe Bay as an outdoor swimming pool.

Annually, about 200,000 books are published throughout the world.

Wins Damages Against City

James Brandon Awarded Judgment in Barricade Collision Case

Judgment against the city to the extent of $580 was awarded James Brandon for damages claimed following an accident in which his car struck an unlighted barricade on Fairfield Road December 2. The judgment was handed down by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald today following trial in Supreme Court yesterday.

Plaintiff claimed the city was negligent in not providing lights for the barricades, erected to protect the public from live wires and fallen trees across the roadway.

The city based its defence on the grounds lights were not required at the time of day when the accident occurred.

"The barricade in question was placed across the street after darkness came on and I think it was gross negligence on the part of the defendant's servants not to have lighted it forthwith," Mr. Justice McDonald stated in part.

Damages included $80 special damages and $500 general. Costs were ordered for the plaintiff on the County Court scale.

The City Council's legislative committee, in special session at the City Hall today, endorsed the brief prepared by the Associated Property Owners of Vancouver, seeking relief for those burdened with heavy municipal real estate taxation.

Marching In 'Threes'

Canadian Scottish at Vernon Taught New Field Drill By Princess Pats

By MAJOR E. HOUSLEY
VERNON—The Victoria contingent taking part in this training camp of 2,000 B.C. militiamen, largest since the World War in this province, arrived here Sunday and on Monday had their first active day's work—a "toughening-up" program of basic field exercises in the large unit "areas" which surround this camp in the rolling Okanagan hills.

In the camp from Victoria are 400 all ranks in the two battalions of the Canadian Scottish and 25 in two companies of the 6th Divisional Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, accompanied by the 13th Field Ambulance.

On Saturday morning Lieut. Col. H. R. W. Allan arrived in Vernon with the R.C.A.S.C. contingent from Victoria and took command of an additional 70 officers and men from the companies there. The entire contingent of 90 embarked in a convoy of trucks and buses and set out on the long road up the Fraser Valley and into the Okanagan from Kamloops.

For 25 hours the convoy of loaded trucks rolled along in heavy rain, stopping only for meals and mechanical inspection of the vehicles.

In Kamloops, the convoy stopped for its first hot meal, and then took the road again, rolling up over the divide and down into Okanagan by way of Monte Lake Road, arriving at Vernon at 9.30 a.m. It passed through the town and drove up Mission Hill to where the white bell tents of the big camp dotted the brown benched land just beyond the city limits.

SCOTTISH ARRIVE
An hour later the 1st and 2nd Battalions of the Canadian Scottish, infantry and machine-guns, respectively, from Victoria and Nanaimo, arrived on the second of two special troop trains which brought 1,500 soldiers from the coast. They were commanded by Col. R. W. Kingham, who, on arrival at camp, took over one of the two brigades into which the camp is divided.

After detrainment, the Scottish marched through Vernon to the camp with the pipers leading. Almost the entire population of the fruit city lined the sidewalks along the route.

The rest of Sunday was devoted to settling down in camp. Medical inspection of the men and general instructions to the officers of the units by Brigadier J. C. Stewart D.S.O., the camp commandant.

Monday morning the troops attended a demonstration of the new field drill in "threes," which is superseding the traditional British "fours," by a platoon of P.P.C.L.I. from Esquimalt.

Immediately afterwards, each unit, a cavalry regiment, the B.C. Dragoons, the 11th Divisional Signals, the seven infantry battalions—both the Scottish, the B.C. Regiment (D.C.O.R.), the Westminster Regiment (M.G.), the Seaford Highlanders of Canada, the Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver Regiment) and the Rocky Mountain Rangers, the Sixth Divisional, R.C.A.S.C., and the 12th and 13th (Victoria) Field Ambulances, R.C.A.M.C., marched out on the roads to their various "areas." The "areas" are great stretches of public lands around Vernon, taking in all types of country, hill, valley and plain.

The Army Service Corps companies took over the army "pudle jumpers," ton-and-a-half trucks with short, cross-country wheel-base, and carried out extensive exploration of the roads between Vernon and Armstrong, 10 miles up the valley. All ranks learned much about the technical details of "supply refilling points," their location and operation, which is one of the most important duties of the supply organization.

At the same time the 13th Field Ambulance carried out training in their area on the lines of casualty clearance work.

TRY OUT THREES

The First Canadian Scottish organized platoons on the new "threes" system and worked out in their area on the use of ground for concealment and manoeuvre, simple but grilling exercises involving incessant marching and doubling over the bare hills in the burning sun.

The second battalion carried out equivalent machine-gun exercises.

These exercises for all arms of the defence forces concentrated here will continue in increasing difficulty day by day until the climax of the camp will be reached Thursday and Friday when the entire 2,000 troops will divide into two "armies" and "fight" a night-and-day action over 24 hours of time.

An invitation was extended to Mayor Andrew McGavin to attend the "All Sooke Day" on July 19 in a letter received from the Sooke Community Association today.

Gasoline Appeal To Supreme Court

Hearing On British Columbia Price Ruling in October

T. E. H. Ellis, associated with Senator J. W. de B. Farris as counsel for several oil companies in their fight to halt a government-ordered reduction in the retail price of gasoline, said today the companies would carry their fight to the Supreme Court of Canada.

The next sitting of the Supreme Court of Canada is in October.

The British Columbia Court of Appeal recently ruled that the control of gasoline prices within the province is within the power of the British Columbia government.

Plan 1940 Music Festival Chain

Executives of Canadian Federation Open Annual Meeting Here

Plans for next year's coast-to-coast chain of musical festivals will be drafted this afternoon, tomorrow and Saturday morning by 30 executives of the Canadian Federation of Musical Festivals, holding their annual meeting in the Y.M.C.A. building here.

British Columbia delegates held a brief, informal session this morning to decide matters of policy, chiefly with regard to the scale of daily payments to adjudicators.

The actual convention will start this afternoon and continue this evening, but the main business of the annual meeting—the selection of adjudicators and the setting of dates for the festival in each city across the Dominion—is not expected to come up until tomorrow afternoon.

April 23 to 27 has been tentatively chosen as the time for the 1940 Victoria festival, but these dates may have to be abandoned if the Kelowna festival, not affiliated with the federation in the past, joins and applies for an adjudicator this year, as it is expected to do.

George Mathieson, Winnipeg, secretary and main moving spirit of the federation, was expected in Victoria this afternoon to take part in the sessions. Allan Craig, chairman of the Victoria Musical Festival Association, is in charge of the arrangements for the delegates.

Tomorrow afternoon and evening will see the social side of the convention. After an early adjournment in the afternoon the delegates will be taken for a sight-seeing drive and will be guests of Mrs. F. G. Aldous for tea at her Ten-mile Point home. In the evening Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie will be hostess at an informal garden party and buffet supper at her home on Fairfield Road.

Hailstorm Ends Brief Fine Spell

Weather Man Not Optimistic, But Better Day Expected Tomorrow

Yesterday's brief spell of fine weather gave way overnight to a hailstorm, strong winds, scattered showers and an overcast sky, and everyone was disappointed at lack of sunshine.

The weather man, again this morning, was not optimistic about the future, although he said he anticipated fairer weather tomorrow.

"The week-end is a little too far away," he said when asked what the Saturday and Sunday holidays may see in the way of weather.

"It hardly looks as good as that," he replied, when asked if a spell of really fine weather was in the immediate offing.

He was generally very non-committal and would not forecast more than 24 hours.

Hail fell about 2.30 this morning, and later in the day several persons said they saw big flakes of snow fall. This could not be substantiated scientifically.

Cold temperature at higher levels and a squall off the coast caused the hail.

A series of atmospheric depressions coming across the Pacific from the Aleutian Islands and the Bering Sea, "the cradle of Pacific coast weather," is blamed for the persistent dull weather of June. It is becoming warmer and

Drill Team On Way to Fair

Victoria Girls to Perform at San Francisco Exhibition

Taking with them the wishes of Mayor Andrew McGavin that they all have an enjoyable time, the Victoria Girls' Drill Team and Kay White (Miss Victoria) and her attendants, Jean Wilson and Doreen McGregor, embarked on the Seattle boat yesterday afternoon for the first leg of their journey to San Francisco and the Golden Gate Exposition.

Before leaving, the drill unit, attired in their snappy red, white and blue uniforms of military design, and preceded by the "Miss Victoria's" party in an open car, paraded through town to the City Hall, where they were greeted by Mayor McGavin.

After wishing them a pleasant time, the mayor pointed out that while he was in San Francisco recently he learned drill teams were being formed and said that it was up to the Victoria team to keep up the city's reputation by making their performances just a little better than those by the home town's teams.

THANKS CITY

Norman Foster, instructor of the team, expressed thanks to Mayor McGavin for all the help the city had given to make the trip possible for the 32 young ladies.

After the ceremony, which was watched by a large crowd, the girls marched to the C.P.R. boat and, after posing for numerous pictures in the hot sun, said their farewells and boarded the boat.

Their route through the city was lined with many people. The young Victoria drillers, who have been diligently practicing a series of intricate marching movements weekly for many months under the careful coaching of their instructor, have mastered a series of smart drills that should not fail to make a hit when they perform at the fair. They are scheduled to put on a number of performances at the exposition on Treasure Island.

This is the first long trip many of the girls in the drill team have ever made, and they were looking forward to it with keen enthusiasm. Kay White and Misses Wilson and McGregor are making the trip as guests of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce. They placed highest in the "Miss Victoria" contest last year and thus won the trips to the San Francisco Fair which went with the honors. All their expenses will be paid.

They will be entertained during their visit by the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce and the British Columbia government.

Both parties will travel on the same train south. Each group has chaperones.

Ralph Staub directed for Republic under associate producer Harry Grey.

Dance Team Plays, Atlas

The colorful career of Vernon and Irene Castle, world-famous dance team of pre-war days, is depicted in striking fashion in the latest RKO Radio screen musical, in which Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, reunited as co-stars, impersonate the principals. The picture is called "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle," and will open tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre.

The struggle of the Castles to win recognition as dancers, their sudden fame and happiness, and Vernon's experiences as a member of the Royal Flying Corps, are all dramatically unfolded in this spectacular film musical. Many popular songs of yesteryear, as well as the famous dances created by the Castles, are interpolated throughout the picture.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Only Angels Have Wings," the Columbia film produced and directed by Howard Hawks, ends its sensational run at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow. The film, which has been unanimously praised as the greatest screen adventure of 1939, co-stars Cary Grant, as an adventurous pilot in South America, and Jean Arthur, as a stranded showgirl. Set against the colorful Andes Mountains, "Only Angels Have Wings" tells a thrilling story of romance and adventure.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, JUNE 30

As the month closes the planetary government is read as unimportant. The evening should be fortunate for conferences with labor leaders who are to prove helpful to industry.

Girls are subject to adverse influences that interfere with their love affairs. Deceit and duplicity may prevent the happy development of college romances.

Higher standards of acting for the screen are forecast and motion pictures are to overcome temporary distribution difficulties.

Lower salaries for stars are prognosticated as new players are featured.

Libraries will be well patronized through the summer. Books and magazines will be in demand by serious students of world trends. New authors are to win best-seller honors.

Secrecy regarding government problems will be maintained and the tendency to guard plans will be more and more evident, the seers prophesy.

Men and women are urged to think much and to talk little as a world in revolt causes divers fears. The United States is to gain steadily in world power, but inevitably must become more closely tied to European diplomacy, astrologers declare.

Again the seers advise Canadians to make the entire summer memorable for pleasant experiences. They are urged to travel and to make the most of educational advantages. Dull care should be driven away until later in the year, when realities can not be ignored.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of advancement and prosperity. There may be small worries, but the big interests will prosper. Children born on this day may be extremely talented, but fond of luxury. These subjects of Cancer seek pleasant environment at the cost of intellectual development.

Robot Pilots

When someone speaks of a "robot," we are apt to think of a machine in the form of a man. Yet it need not be so. A robot is a self-acting machine which seems almost as "smart" as a man, but it does not need to be in human shape. More often than not, it does not look at all like a man.

Gyroscope wheel and rings around it

The word is pronounced like "row-but," also like "rob-ut," with accent on the first syllable. It came from the Czech language and its real meaning is "servant." That is what a robot is—a servant of mankind.

There are robots on board many ocean liners. They keep the vessel on a given course, doing much of the work of the pilot. Such a robot often is called an "iron Mike."

Perhaps even more interesting are the robots which have been placed in many airplanes. They are called "robot pilots" or "automatic pilots."

The heart of this robot is a power-driven wheel known as a gyroscope. Spinning at high speed, it tends to keep the plane in balance, and does a very good job of it.

Fitted inside gimbal rings, the gyroscope wheel will hold its place even if the ring framework is tilted. Because of this power, it is able to bring the plane quickly back to balance.

Robot pilots are made nowadays so they do much more than that. They are joined with parts of the airplane, and can move them in one way or another to keep the plane at a given height, or to make it go higher and higher at a certain angle.

The human pilot can escape from much strain while the robot is at work. It is possible for a pilot to read a book and let the machine do the rest, but in real practice the pilot keeps track of how things are going. When it comes time to land he takes charge of the plane again.

Aviation experts were much interested when an airplane rose in England without a single person aboard. It was under control of radio waves and a robot pilot. After flying for some distance, the plane came down to a safe landing in the Croydon airport.

As time goes on we may feel sure that robots will make airplane travel safer and safer. There is little doubt that some day they will do much of the work of landing the airplane. Good as a human pilot may be, he has trouble in landing if the air is foggy. We may expect inventors to provide robots which, in a sense, will be able to "see" the ground through fog.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"Married life's great, son! The only thing that's liable to be annoying is your wife."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 16, going with a boy of 20. He is a nice boy and my mother does not object to him personally, but she wants us to stop seeing so much of each other and wants me to go about with other boys, too. But I like him best. After all, it is my life and I have to live it.

Answer: That's true, and that is why it is so important that you should plan your life so as to get the most out of it. When you are 16 you are sowing the seeds of the harvest that you have to reap, 10, 15, 20, maybe 40 years from now, and you want to be certain that you are planting flowers instead of tares and thistles.

Now about this "keeping company" with one boy business. Letting him take up all your time and keeping away from all the other dates, getting your name linked with his, getting to be known as John's or Sam's girl, having to wear some boy's brand. Let's consider it a little.

Of course, from your standpoint it seems simple enough. All the girls do it. In a way it is easy to go with one boy because you are familiar with him. You do the same things. You know the same people, so you don't have to make any effort to make conversation or keep him fascinated. He is as comfortable to have about as an old shoe.

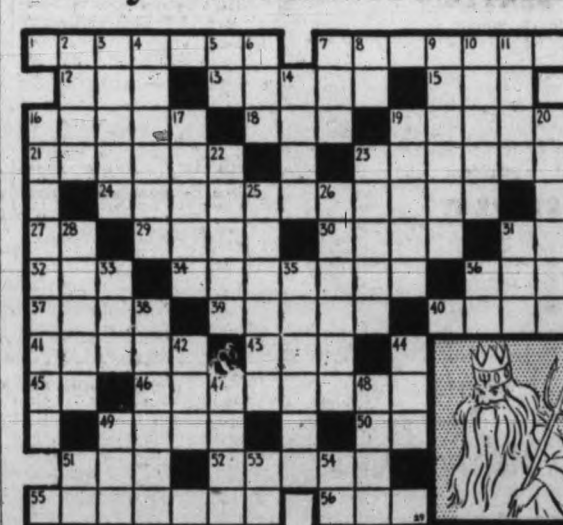

But suppose Tom gets tired of you, or some new girl comes along who strikes his fancy, or he goes off to college, or gets a job somewhere else. Where are you? Left flat. Because you have let him drive away all the other boys and you have no dates.

Suppose in your teens you get paired off with Tom and you go with him not only through high school, but also continue going with him afterward, just because you have become a habit with each other and everybody thinks of you as belonging to each other just as much as if you were married.

You may have got deadly tired of each other. Your childish romance may have worn out long ago. But you can't break away because neither one of you have any one to go to. Finally you drift into a dull-as-dish-water marriage just because your community has expected you to marry so long you feel you have to do it.

DAVIS NEW JUDGE IN SASKATCHEWAN

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. T. C. Davis, Saskatchewan attorney-general, has been appointed a judge of the Court of Appeal of that province, Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe announced today.

Mr. Davis was born September 6, 1889, at Prince Albert, a son of the late Senator T. O. Davis and Mrs. Davis. He was first elected to the Saskatchewan Legislature at the June 2, 1925, general election and has been a member since then. He has held several cabinet posts.

Colwood

Colwood School annual picnic was held at Thetis Lake, June 24. Horseback riding and boating were the chief amusements. A full program of sports was run off, May King winning the cup for the highest number of points scored by any one pupil. Betty Peatt, Dennis Ridley and Herbert Cooper were winners of medals and special prizes in their own classes.

"Too few of our people realize that, as many observers have pointed out, no other system of society has begun to provide the standard of living to which our people are accustomed." — Sir Edward Beatty.

Muddy Roads—But They Like Them

REGINA (CP)—Inhabitants of Saskatchewan's drought areas for the first time in years have muddy roads to talk about—real mud that bogs down cars and halts transport services.

From Shaunavon, centre of the droughtlands, come happy stories of the best rainfall in years and—mud. Early in June muddy roads forced salesmen to abandon cars and travel by train; a political meeting was canceled and a wedding delayed many hours because the preachers' car stuck in the mud.

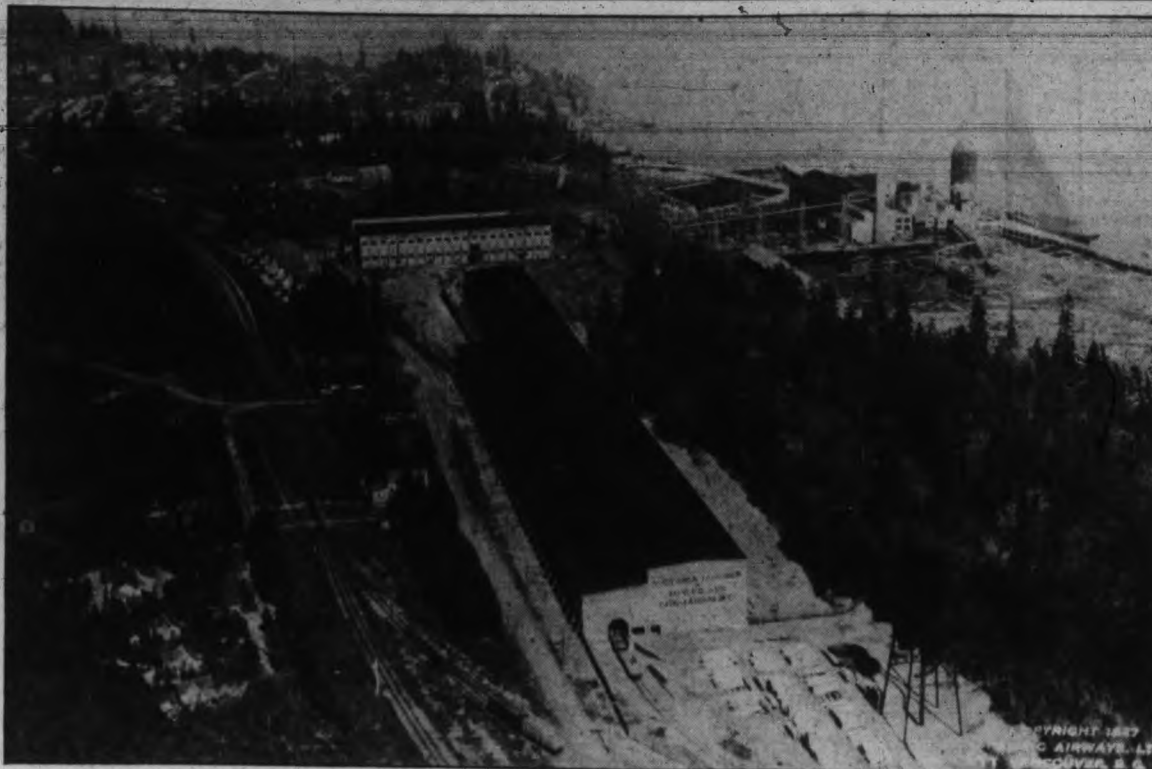

A bride waited at the church four hours while Rev. D. Gootdo battled mud roads in a car. A wedding breakfast was timed for 10 a.m. but it was 4 p.m. before the 50 guests sat down at the bridal table.

But the farm folk are happy to have the mud again, a harbinger of good crops.

Ontario Fruit Outlook

TORONTO (CP)—Prospects for fruit production this year in Ontario are varied, says the Ontario fruit and vegetable statistics committee in a report.

"For the province as a whole fruit production prospects may be summarized as average for apples, peaches, grapes and sour cherries, and below average for sweet cherries, pears and plums," the committee states.

PIONEER ISLAND LUMBERING FIRM—The plant of the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company shown above represents 50 years' development since the late J. C. Humbird took over the small sawmill organized by the late T. G. Askew at Chemainus. The firm on Saturday will celebrate its golden anniversary with a celebration in the Island community where 550 residents rely on its operation for their livelihood.

50 Years of Progress

Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Co.
Marking Golden Jubilee at Chemainus

Fifty years ago there was a small saw mill at Chemainus driven by water power and operated by the late T. G. Askew, which was regarded as a promising enterprise on Vancouver Island.

Today the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company operates one of the largest mills on the British Columbia coast at the same spot.

In tribute to this development and the steady progress which this firm has enjoyed since taking over the Askew property in 1889, the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company on Saturday will stage a big celebration in Chemainus, feeling Dominion Day to be appropriate for commemoration of the progress which a pioneer Canadian firm has enjoyed.

The company actually took over the original mill site on April 6, 1889, 27 years after Mr. Askew had started the venture. Production has been stepped up to the extent that the present mill now produces in an hour what the first mill did in 11 hours.

The Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company was founded by the late J. C. Humbird, a Wisconsin business man who foresaw the tremendous possibilities of British Columbia's logging industry.

After getting the company organized and production started, Mr. Humbird sent to Victoria the late E. J. Painter, who had been a conductor on a Wisconsin railway, and made him vice-president and general manager in charge of operations here. John A. Humbird, a grandson of the founder, is now head of the firm.

FINEST ISLAND TIMBER

The Victoria Lumber Company selected its timber from the E. & N. land belt in 1888 and 1889, and to this day still has some of the originally acquired stands. Because of its early selection this timber comprises some of the finest on Vancouver Island, and the mill is well known for the high quality of the material that goes into its lumber.

In the early days of operation the outlet for lumber was chiefly restricted to Nanaimo and Victoria, but in 1891 the mill purchased a schooner and entered export trade. It was a common sight to see as many as 10 or more sailing ships in the harbor at one time, and shipment by steamer did not commence until the year 1898, when the first export cargo from the port by steamer was dispatched by the Ss. Paroo. This cargo consisted of 1,347,000 feet, and was required to be loaded in 20 day days.

The Victoria Lumber Company remodeled and enlarged the mill in 1891 and 1892, and increased its capacity and storage space gradually during the ensuing years.

In 1923 a disastrous fire destroyed what had become by that time one of the leading lumber producers in the province. The company immediately proceeded to reconstruct on larger and thoroughly modern lines, so that today the small town of Chemainus boasts one of the oldest units of the timber industry, and the whole operation has been singularly steady over the past 50 years.

The company has endeavored to keep pace with improvements in logging methods as well, and has advanced from the horse and oxen logging of the 1890's to the use of huge skidders and tractors.

While Chemainus is located on the Island Highway only two units of the plant are visible from the road, and many people who have repeatedly passed through the town have no conception of the development on the banks of Chemainus harbor.

CONTENTED COMMUNITY
Because of the regularity of the company's operation there is very little labor turnover in the manufacturing division, and the 550 or more employees at the mill form the nucleus of a contented and attractive community.

In the logging division upwards of 300 men are employed at times, but because of the fact that a logging operation must of necessity be more seasonal in nature there is a greater labor turnover, but even in the woods there is a considerable number of employees who have been with the company for a number of years.

Chemainus enjoys probably the most diversified shipping facilities of any mill on the coast, having direct connection with C.P.R., C.N.R. and Great Northern railways, and possessing a fine harbor for loading two ships at the docks and additional ships by lighter in the harbor.

Reorganization of Staffs Discussed

Reorganization of the Saanich high schools staffs was discussed by the Saanich School Board last night with high school principals. Principals attending the interview were A. G. Smith, Mount Newton; J. M. Thomas, Mount View, and Eric Forster, Mt. Douglas, the latter two being newly appointed.

Members of the board told the principals of their plans for internal exchanging of some of the teachers in the municipal schools. No decisions were made as they will await fuller consideration and recommendations by the principals.

Tenders for interior and exterior painting of Cloverdale, Tillamook and Tolmie Schools were let, all going to H. Sheppard for tenders of $317, $314 and $216, respectively. These figures were for labor only, as the school board will supply materials. J. Call was awarded the contract for interior woodworking at Mount View High with a tender of $207.

CEDAR HILL PICNIC

Over 200 pupils and parents of the Cedar Hill School were guests of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the school at a most enjoyable picnic held at Mount Douglas Park. The weather was perfect and a wonderful time was had by all.

Mr. Tipper, immediate past-president of the association, presented a cup to Lois Molry as the most popular pupil of the school year, by children's vote. Mrs. Hanson was in charge of prizes. Mrs. Herbert had charge of luncheon arrangements. Mrs. Brooker and Mrs. Tipper, ice cream. Mrs. Kingscote distributed two cases of oranges. Mrs. Druce distributed the candy. Ice cream and lemonade was served to the children and tea to parents and teachers. At the conclusion, Mr. Cullen, principal of the school, expressed his thanks to the committee and to

Motor Earnings Revealed in Study

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Federal Trade Commission's study shows earnings of Ford Motor Company since organization in 1903 to the end of 1937 were close to $1,000,000,000, but the company lost $16,000,000 in the 11 years, 1927 to 1937, although in the same period the company paid stockholders an aggregate of $75,000,000 in dividends.

In the 29 years of its corporate life prior to 1938, General Motors earned $2,610,885,335, out of which $1,817,663,616 was paid to stockholders. Although not the largest company from the standpoint of total assets, the F.T.C. points out that in the period 1927 to 1937 General Motors topped the list of corporations in the average of annual earnings. While Chevrolet has been the most profitable unit of General Motors, it is pointed out that General Motors gets 40 per cent of its revenues from products other than automobiles.

PLANES OF TCA HAVE FINE RECORD

MONTREAL—In the first five months of this year Trans-Canada Airlines planes have flown a total of 1,026,440 revenue miles, according to a report issued today from headquarters here. The figure for the month of May was 223,510, an increase of 7,507 over April. Between January 1 and the end of May, 3,648 passengers were carried, the total for May being 1,811, an increase of 17 per cent over the preceding month. Passenger service between Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Vancouver and between Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton began on April 1. The average passenger journey in May was 607.79 miles. Revenue hours flown totaled a few minutes under 1,390.

NO EARLY FEDERAL ELECTION DECISION

Premier King Studies Europe and Far East Before Choosing Date

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King will make no hasty decision about the date of a general election because of the disturbed outlook in Europe and Asia. He wants a few weeks to consider the international situation and to clear up a number of domestic matters now pending before coming to a conclusion as to whether an election should be held this year.

The gravity of the European situation was indicated by the recent speech of Premier Dandridge to the French Chamber of Deputies, said Mr. King last night as he concluded a busy day in which he presided over a cabinet meeting and met a deputation of Canadian manufacturers regarding armament and munition orders from Great Britain.

The government would be open to severe criticism from the public if it plunged the country into an election at a time when a critical situation might develop in Europe or Asia and a special session of Parliament might possibly be required as was contemplated at the time of the Munich crisis last September, the Prime Minister said.

"All things considered," he added, "I believe something might be gained and nothing would be lost by waiting a few weeks before reaching a decision regarding a general election."

"I want to be perfectly frank. I don't say we won't have an election and I don't say we will, but I want to consider the matter."

The manufacturers' deputation yesterday told the government of a plan to send a group of their members experienced in engineering production to England to obtain data on the requirements of the British government and asked the government's attitude as to their seeking British business.

Mr. King said the government welcomed industrial activity of any kind and had repeatedly informed British authorities to this effect.

He assured the deputation the government had no objection to their obtaining business from the British government and would assist them in every way possible. It would not act as agent for either the British government or the manufacturers, and any contract would have to be made directly between the British government and the manufacturers. He promised the assistance of Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—eat food healthily and strongly, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, doped, tired and peepless.
Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. Painful Piles

Can Be Quickly Relieved

If you think there is no way to relieve the misery of piles, it's because you don't know of HEM-ROID, an internal medicine, from a prescription written by Dr. Leonhardt, a western physician.

The real cause of piles is on the inside—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel, with the tiny rectal veins full of stagnant, impure blood.
Dr. Leonhardt decided the way to relieve piles was internally, with a medicine which would ease the congestion of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and help to heal and restore the sore, tender spots. After many tests he wrote the prescription which has been so successful in giving quick relief from pile misery. It is now offered to you with our promise that you may have your money back if you are not completely satisfied after using one bottle.

No matter what kind of piles you have or how long you have had them, HEM-ROID must show you the quick, clean way to get rid of your pile misery or your money will be given back to you. MacParlane and Vancouver Drug Stores or any other druggist can supply you with HEM-ROID and will back up this promise.
